Dance Of The Mothers:

Mothers, Infants and Young Children of September 11, 2001 Beatrice Beebe, Phyllis Cohen, K. Mark Sossin, Sara Markese, 2013-09-13 The group of papers presented in this volume represents ten years of involvement of a group of eight core therapists working originally with approximately forty families who suffered the loss of husbands and fathers on September 11 2001 The project focuses on the families of women who were pregnant and widowed in the disaster or of women who were widowed with an infant born in the previous year This book maps the support and services provided without cost to the families by the primary prevention project the September 11 2001 Mothers Infants and Young Children Project organised by a highly trained group of therapists specialising in adult child mother infant and family treatment as well as in nonverbal communication The demands of the crisis led these therapists to expand on their psychoanalytic training fostering new approaches to meeting the needs of these families They sought out these families offering support groups for mothers and their infants and young children in the mothers own neighbourhoods They also brought the families to mother child videotaped play sessions at the New York State Psychiatric Institute at Columbia University followed by video feedback and consultation sessions In 2011 marking the 10th anniversary of the World Trade Center tragedy the Project continues to provide services without cost for these mothers who lost their husbands for their infants who are now approximately ten years old and for the siblings of these children This book was originally published as a special issue of the Journal of Infant Child and Adolescent Psychotherapy

Black Women's Portrayals on Reality Television Donnetrice C. Allison, 2016-01-14 This book critically analyzes the portrayals of Black women in current reality television Audiences are presented with a multitude of images of Black women fighting arguing and cursing at one another in this manufactured world of reality television This perpetuation of negative insidious racial and gender stereotypes influences how the U S views Black women This stereotyping disrupts the process in which people are able to appreciate cultural and gender difference Instead of celebrating the diverse symbols and meaning making that accompanies Black women's discourse and identities reality television scripts an artificial or plastic image of Black women that reinforces extant stereotypes This collection's contributors seek to uncover examples in reality television shows where instantiations of Black women's gendered racial and cultural difference is signified and made sinister

Playing to Win Hilary Levey Friedman, 2013-08-03 Playing to Win Raising Children in a Competitive Culture follows the path of elementary school age children involved in competitive dance youth travel soccer and scholastic chess Why do American children participate in so many adult run activities outside of the home especially when family time is so scarce By analyzing the roots of these competitive afterschool activities and their contemporary effects Playing to Win contextualizes elementary school age children's activities and suggests they have become proving grounds for success in the tournament of life especially when it comes to coveted admission to elite universities and beyond In offering a behind the scenes look at how Tiger Moms evolve Playing to Win introduces concepts
