Dancer From Atlantis:

The Dancer from Atlantis Poul Anderson, 2014-12-30 A mesmerizing tale of adventure and romance An anomaly of time transports a twentieth century man backward through history toward the greatest catastrophe the world has ever known Looking out over the Pacific Ocean from the deck of a luxury cruise liner American architect Duncan Reid is suddenly caught up in an inexplicable event and when he awakens he is somewhere different Duncan has inadvertently fallen victim to a fatally malfunctioning time machine from the future along with three equally startled companions from vastly different epochs and civilizations and now he stands with them on the rocky Mediterranean coast of Egypt in the year 4000 BCE With the aid of miraculous technology supplied by the dying time machine the displaced four are able to communicate and share their stories the most startling being the tale told by the one woman among them the bewitching Erissa Only decades removed from her actual time she claims to be a priestess from Atlantis who views Duncan as a god and she represents perhaps their only hope of returning to their rightful eras But to do so will entail immersing themselves in the savage turmoil of an ancient world and placing themselves in harm's way on the eve of the most terrible devastation in human history A true giant of twentieth century fantasy and science fiction multiple Hugo and Nebula Award winner Poul Anderson astounds once more with a powerful adventure through history and legend that set a towering standard for time travel fiction There Will

Kapczynski,Michael David Richardson,2012 A dynamic event centered exploration of the hundred year history of German language film This dynamic event centered anthology offers a new understanding of the hundred year history of German language film from the earliest days of the Kintopp to contemporary productions like The Lives of Others. Each of the more than eighty essays takes a key date as its starting point and explores its significance for German film history pursuing its relationship with its social political and aesthetic moment. While the essays offer ample temporal and topical spread, this book emphasizes the juxtaposition of famous and unknown stories, granting attention to a wide range of cinematic events. Brief section introductions provide a larger historical and film historical framework that illuminates the essays within it, offering both scholars and the general reader a setting for the individual texts and figures under investigation. Cross references to other essays in the book are included at the close of each entry, encouraging readers not only to pursue familiar trajectories in the development of German film but also to trace particular figures and motifs across genres and historical periods. Together, the contributions offer a new view of the multiple intersecting narratives that make up German language cinema. The constellation that is thus established challenges unidirectional narratives of German film history and charts new ways of thinking about film historiography more broadly. Jennifer Kapczynski is Associate Professor of German at Washington University St. Louis, and Michael Richardson is Associate Professor of German at Ithaca College.
