Damals Dann Und Danach By Honigmann:

Making German Jewish Literature Anew Katja Garloff, 2022-12-06 In Making German Jewish Literature Anew Katja Garloff traces the emergence of a new Jewish literature in Germany and Austria from 1990 to the present. The rise of new generations of authors who identify as both German and Jewish and who often sustain additional affiliations with places such as France, Russia, or Israel affords a unique opportunity to analyze the foundational moments of diasporic literature. Making German Jewish Literature Anew is structured around a series of founding gestures performing authorship, remaking memory, and claiming places. Garloff contends that these founding gestures are literary strategies that reestablish the very possibility of a German Jewish literature several decades after the Holocaust. Making German Jewish Literature Anew offers fresh interpretations of second-generation authors such as Maxim Biller, Doron Rabinovici, and Barbara Honigmann, as well as of third-generation authors, many of whom come from Eastern European and/or mixed-religion backgrounds. These more recent writers include Benjamin Stein, Lena Gorelik, and Katja Petrowskaja. Throughout the book, Garloff asks what exactly marks a given text as Jewish: the author's identity, intended audience, thematic concerns, or stylistic choices, and reflects on existing definitions of Jewish literature.

Jews in German Literature since 1945, 2021-11-15 This volume contains some 46 essays on various aspects of contemporary German Jewish literature. The approaches are diverse, reflecting the international origins of the contributors who are based in seventeen different countries. Holocaust literature is just one theme in this context; others are memory, identity, Christian-Jewish relations, anti-Zionism, la belle juive, and more. Prose, poetry, and drama are all represented, and there is a major debate on the controversial attempt to stage Fassbinder's Der Müll, die Stadt und der Tod in 1985. The overall approach of the volume is an inclusive one. In his introduction, the editor calls for a reappraisal of the terms of German Jewish discourse, away from the notion of Germans and Jews, and towards the idea that both Jews and non-Jews, all of them Germans, have contributed to the corpus of German Jewish literature.

Nomadic Ethics in Contemporary Women's Writing in German Emily Jeremiah, 2012 Explores nationality, gender, and postmodern subjectivity in the work of five German-speaking women writers who embody a nomadic ethics. How can postmodern subjectivity be ethically conceived? What can literature contribute to this project? What role do gender and nation play in the construction of contemporary identities? Nomadic Ethics broaches these questions, exploring the work of five women writers who live outside of the German-speaking countries or thematize a move away from them: Birgit Vanderbeke, Dorothea Grunzweig, Antje R. Vieh, Strubel, Anna Mitgutsch, and Barbara Honigmann. It draws on work by Rosi Braidotti, Sara Ahmed, and Judith Butler to develop a nomadic ethics and examines how the writers under discussion conceptualize contemporary German and Austrian identities, especially but not only gender identities, in instructive ways. The book engages with a number of critical issues in contemporary German studies: globalization, green thought, questions of gender and sexuality, East and West German identities, Austrianness, the postmemory of the Holocaust, and Jewishness. In this way, Nomadic Ethics offers a valuable contribution to debates about the nature of

German studies itself as well as insightful readings of the individual authors and texts concerned Emily Jeremiah is Lecturer in German Royal Holloway University of London

Contemporary Jewish Writing in Europe Vivian Liska, Thomas Nolden, 2008 With contributions from a dozen American and European scholars this volume presents an overview of Jewish writing in post World War II Europe Striking a balance between close readings of individual texts and general surveys of larger movements and underlying themes the essays portray Jewish authors across Europe as writers and intellectuals of multiple affiliations and hybrid identities Aimed at a general readership and guided by the idea of constructing bridges across national cultures this book maps for English speaking readers the productivity and diversity of Jewish writers and writing that has marked a revitalization of Jewish culture in France Germany Austria Italy Great Britain the Netherlands Hungary Poland and Russia Moderna språk ,2002 World Literature Today ,2000

German Studies in the Post-Holocaust Age Adrian Del Caro, Janet Ward, 2000 This is a collection of essays that grew out of a conference at the University of Colorado where international scholars met to assess the post war transformation of German Studies from 1945 1995 In the first section scholars address the intersecting problems of nationalism and anti-Semitism in modern and contemporary Germany The second section raises issues concerning the German Other providing innovative views on the hybrid state of German cultural production The third section offers unique insight into the apparently forbidden areas of artistic creation after Adorno s initial anti-graven image dictum in the face of Shoah atrocities In the final section the authors explore German literature and literary studies as international vehicles for reflection on the Holocaust and for the ongoing renewal of national identities

Religious Traditions and Personal Stories Uta Blohm, 2005 Women in roles of religious leadership represent a relatively new phenomenon within Judaism and Christianity and to some extent a break with traditional assumptions The study gives insight into how women are defining themselves as religious leaders and women within the context of patriarchal religion The research is based on 50 qualitative interviews with women rabbis Anglican priests and other Christian ministers Some of the issues discussed concerning role ordination and tradition are unrelated to gender Christian interviewees describe their journeys into the ministry or priesthood predominantly as experiences of vocation whereas rabbis choose the rabbinate out of an interest in Jewish studies and in the role itself With regard to gender women across the religious divide are facing opposition and are dealing with similar religious questions of inclusive language or the impact of traditional female roles
