Dancing Down The Street And Other Stories:

Dancing Down the Street Irving Werner, 2004-01 The theme uniting the characters in these stories is ambition not in terms of extravagant goals but the simple and basic wants for their lives and those close to them These elementary concerns deal with love death fidelity fleeting time the desire to comprehend their journey a reassessment of their lives and others of more modest dimensions but no lesser importance Sometimes they want the nominally impossible as in the harrowing Elsa and at others the most mundane as in the lighter Kickbacks Sometimes as in The Pharmacist there is the shock of learning of the dichotomies that reside within those with whom we share our everyday lives These stories illustrate the ways in which the characters are thwarted often the instruments of their own defeats how they try to compensate for these failures and how in so doing they learn things about themselves that they might otherwise not get to know or want to Although as in all stories the intentions are ultimately serious often traced through veils of loneliness the interweaving of humor is not precluded

Master and Man and Other Stories Leo Tolstoy, 2005-06-30 The ten stories collected in this volume demonstrate Tolstoy's artistic prowess displayed over five decades experimenting with prose styles and drawing on his own experiences with humour realism and compassion Inspired by his experiences in the army The Two Hussars contrasts a dashing father and his mean spirited son Illustrating Tolstoy's belief that art must serve a moral purpose What Men Live By portrays an angel sent to earth to learn three existential rules of life and Two Old Men shows a peasant abandoning his pilgrimage to the Holy Land in order to help his neighbours And in the highly moving Master and Man Tolstoy depicts a mercenary merchant travelling with his unprotesting servant through a blizzard to close a business deal little realizing he may soon have to settle accounts with his maker
