Dandelion Clocks and Other Tales Juliana Horatia Ewing, 1887 Dandelion Clocks and Other Tales ... Juliana Horatia Ewing, 1895 Dandelion Clocks Juliana Horatia Ewing, 2015-07-19 Excerpt from Dandelion Clocks And Other Tales Every child knows how to tell the time by a dandelion clock You blow till the seed is all blown away and you count each of the puffs an hour to a puff Every child knows this and very few children want to know any more on the subject It was Peter Paul's peculiarity that he always did want to know more about everything a habit whose first and foremost inconvenience is that one can so seldom get people to answer one's questions Peter Paul and his two sisters were playing in the pastures Rich green Dutch pastures unbroken by hedge or wall which stretched like an emerald ocean to the horizon and met the sky About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy In rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition We do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works Marcus Parnassus John Michael Coia, 2015-09-20 When young boys or girls for that matter wander off into their inner world magical things can happen That is where the reality of the adult world becomes less than real often disappearing altogether Hard things can become soft gravity be denied and both time and distance get mixed up Adults say You're imagining things Stop daydreaming and do something useful but who is to say what is real and what is imagined I certainly prefer the so called imagined world to the other real world where hard things are hard and supper time is fixed So let's join Marcus Parnassus in his adventures where supper time is always when you're hungry and bed time is flexible

Dandelion Clocks Nicholas Campbell, 1993-06 Born to Be Wild Hattie Garlick, 2016-06-02 Want to save cash your child's imagination and possibly even the planet This is the book you need Packed with great photos of real families in the outdoors Born to Be Wild contains easy to follow instructions for activities that require nothing more sophisticated than a small person's imagination and access to a little outdoor space Nature lays on magical materials for free each season from fallen leaves and twigs moulted feathers sand and shells to mud puddles and rain Everything else you'll need for these activities is already hiding in your cupboards at home No expensive art supplies or outward bound kit required All you need are the toolkit items at the front of the book ordinary household essentials like scraps of paper string glue recycled food containers and an empty jar or two Along the way Hattie talks to families organisations and communities who have rebuilt their relationships with nature with extreme or inspiring results and she introduces scientists psychologists and other experts who explain why as modern families we should revive our waning relationships with nature whatever age or stage we're at A Clock Without Hands Guy Burt, 2007-12-18 I want to turn back the hands on the clock and change it all make it different three friends who meet up by chance in an old city and share a beer and laugh at old stories and jokes But it wasn't like that and the clock has no hands so I can't turn them back p 171 Alex Carlise has returned to a place he thought he'd never see again outside of his dreams As he walks the ochre dusted road to the house in which he grew up the memories of his young life in a small Italian town push all other thoughts out of his head thoughts about the major exhibition of his artwork opening soon in London thoughts of the myriad things he should be doing in preparation everything subsides to make room for the warm flood of a time long past When he opens the door to the now deserted house he is suddenly seven again There is Jamie his first friend his best friend Anna his first love and the delicious days they spent exploring the valley and swimming in the cerulean blue Mediterranean Sea It all comes back to Alex in a way he can neither control nor discern But the memories are insistent demanding Soon Alex loses entire hours to the past overwhelmed by the haunting memories of a youth turned tragic Alex remembers the day he Jamie and Anna went to their favorite place an abandoned church far up in the hills There they stumbled upon a man injured and sick From this discovery a series of events tumbled forth that would change them all forever Alex now realizes that he must confront the truth about himself about the echoes of the past that still haunt him and about the friends whose legacy has meant only devastation Guy Burt's vision of youth is piercingly accurate and his sense of how time can play tricks on the mind is startling Haunting eerie and remarkably assured The Clock Without Hands will resonate with the child that hides inside your own memories

MourneQuest Garry McElherron, 2012-10-08 Jack Turner's most prized possession has been snatched away from him and the only way of getting it back has been stolen He leaves his home in post famine Ireland and stumbles upon an enchanted realm long since forgotten by mankind and encounters a creature named Cobs a kindred spirit with a wit and wisdom far beyond his youthful appearance Together they embark on a quest through the True Kingdom of Mourne where the strange and wonderful inhabitants both help and hinder their path rivers hide ancient tales a mighty wall with a history like no other and the ultimate secret that could bring an end to everything Can one small boy defeat his inner demons in order to conquer the greatest demon of them all Follow Jack on the adventure of two lifetimes
