Daniel Libeskind - Museum ohne Ausgang Thorsten Rodiek,1999 The Museum 'Without an Exit' - Daniel Libeskind's Felix-Nussbaum-Museum in Osnabrück Sonja Longolius,2005-07-18 Seminar paper from the year 2003 in the subject American Studies Culture and Applied Geography grade 1 University of Hamburg Kunstgeschichtliches Institut course Hauptseminar language English abstract If I perish don't let my paintings die exhibit them While speaking these words in his Belgian exile in 1942 Felix Nussbaum did not know that he had only two more years to live until the terror regime of National Socialism would murder him and his wife Felka Platek in Auschwitz Being only forty years of age when murdered the artist seemed to have abandoned all hope after being forced to live in exile and under constant threat of discovery since 1933 Nevertheless this personal hopelessness did not include the destiny of his artwork for which Felix Nussbaum cared as long as possible The unpainted paintings of Felix Nussbaum demand nothing less than to become visible to the contemplating eye and so Daniel Libeskind built a museum in Osnabrück to house the largest collection of Nussbaum's paintings as well as to create a profound place for the encounter of the future and the past and not only a testament to an impossible fate In July 1998 54 years after Felix Nussbaum's deportation to Auschwitz the museum opened its gates to the public The Museum without an Exit as Daniel Libeskind coined his building challenges the traditional idea of museums as Temples of Contemplation Libeskind insists on emotional and physical experiences evoked when entering the museum's space His difficult building does not allow visitors to be passive spectators since the museum does not simply offer space for distributing works of art Rather Libeskind's building urges people to get closer to the experience of Felix Nussbaum and hence sets new standards in regard of museum building Das Felix-Nussbaum-Haus von Daniel Libeskind Simone Kraft,2007 Daniel Libeskind Thorsten Rodiek,1998 Daniel Libeskind designed the Felix Nussbaum Haus as an extension to Osnabrück's Museum of Art History This building dedicated to the memory of the painter Felix Nussbaum born 1904 in Osnabrück died 1944 in Auschwitz was the architect's first completed project Here the director of the Osnabrück museum describes the building in detail highlighting the key features of Libeskind's deconstructivist style as it has been termed He also investigates the correlations between the building's architecture and the paintings of Nussbaum Daniel Libeskind Kristin Feireiss,1997 Responding to Loss Robert Mugerauer,2014-10-15 Much recent philosophical work proposes to illuminate dilemmas of human existence with reference to the arts and culture often to the point of submitting particular works to preconceived formulations In this examination of three texts that respond to loss Robert Mugerauer responds with close detailed readings that seek to clarify the particularity of the intense force such works bring forth Mugerauer shows how in the face of what is irrevocably taken away as well as of what continues to be given the unavoidable task of interpretation is ours alone Mugerauer examines works in three different forms that powerfully call on us to respond to loss Cormac McCarthy's The Crossing Daniel Libeskind's Jewish Museum Berlin and Wim Wenders's film Wings of Desire Explicating

these difficult but rich works with reference to the thought of Martin Heidegger Jean Luc Marion Hannah Arendt and Emmanuel Levinas the author helps us to experience the multiple and diverse ways in which all of us are opened to the saturated phenomena of loss violence witnessing and responsibility

Exhibition Experiments Sharon Macdonald, Paul Basu, 2008-04-30 Exhibition Experiments is a lively collection that considers experiments with museological form that challenge our understanding of and experience with museums Explores examples of museum experimentalism in light of cutting edge museum theory Draws on a range of global and topical examples including museum experimentation exhibitionary forms the fate of conventional notions of object and representation and the impact of these changes Brings together an international group of art historians anthropologists and sociologists to question traditional disciplinary boundaries Considers the impact of technology on the museum space tackles a range of examples of experimentalism from many different countries including Australia Austria Germany Israel Luxembourg Sweden the UK and the US Examines the changes and challenging new possibilities facing museum studies

Space François Penz, Gregory Radick, Robert Howell, 2004-03-25 What is space This fascinating journey of exploration begins in our own minds the space within our brains We discover how space is used in sign language and in architecture before moving on to the virtual space created in an imaginary computer generated world The delineation of space has been important throughout human history and we look at how boundaries have been mapped in the past and how they remain politically important today Finally we travel into outer space to look at human exploration and the ultimate nature of space and the universe

Daniel Libeskind Bernhard Schneider, 1999 Scarcely any other contemporary building has been the focus of so much attention and heated discussion as the Jewish Museum in Berlin This guide to the museum s architecture sheds light on its symbolism as well as on the philosophy behind it The historic and social significance of this museum extends far beyond the bounds of the city Its already famous zigzag structure challenges the very way we regard architecture
