Deaths Showcase The Power Of Image In Contemporary Democracy:

Death's Showcase Ariella Azoulay, 2001 An interdisciplinary exploration of the visual presence of death in contemporary culture

War Culture and the Contest of Images Dora Apel, 2012-10-19 War Culture and the Contest of Images analyzes the relationships among contemporary war documentary practices and democratic ideals Dora Apel examines a wide variety of images and cultural representations of war in the United States and the Middle East including photography performance art video games reenactment and social media images Simultaneously she explores the merging of photojournalism and artistic practices the effects of visual framing and the construction of both sanctioned and counter hegemonic narratives in a global contest of images As a result of the global visual culture in which anyone may produce as well as consume public imagery the wide variety of visual and documentary practices present realities that would otherwise be invisible or officially off limits In our digital era the prohibition and control of images has become nearly impossible to maintain Using carefully chosen case studies such as Krzysztof Wodiczko's video projections and public works in response to 9 11 and the wars in Iraq and Afghanistan the performance works of Coco Fusco and Regina Galindo and the practices of Israeli and Palestinian artists Apel posits that contemporary war images serve as mediating agents in social relations and as a source of protection or refuge for those robbed of formal or state sanctioned citizenship While never suggesting that documentary practices are objective translations of reality Apel shows that they are powerful polemical tools both for legitimizing war and for making its devastating effects visible In modern warfare and in the accompanying culture of war that capitalism produces as a permanent feature of modern society she asserts that the contest of images is as critical as the war on the ground

Now Vincent Lavoie, 2003-01-01 While the crisis that took place in photojournalism during the 1960 s brought about a significant shift in the practices discourses and institutional structures of press photography it also affected the practices of artists specifically with regard to work devoted to revitalizing the depiction of events The art world attempted to revitalize the historical genre by undertaking its critical rereading in the spirit of restoring a tradition diminished by the mass media The problem may be expressed in these terms How can history be depicted bearing in mind that the media mainly photojournalism and the electronic press have claimed a monopoly of the genre unto themselves At issue is the sizeable problem of mass media omnipotence as an obligatory referential universe for historiographical artistic practices Today it seems impossible to depict the event in any way other than by accentuating or eschewing the formal attributes rhetorical artifices and ideological precepts of the mass media These approaches to addressing historical moments have been examined in this article both because they epitomize contemporary historical writing and for the most part they constitute critical responses to stereotyped depictions of events Above all they represent a paradigm shift the mass media's prerogatives for depicting historical moments has shifted towards the field of art Contemporary depictions of catastrophe crimes sensationalist news items terrorist attacks humanitarian disasters genocides common themes in many of the artistic projects represented in the 8th edition of the Mois de la Photo a Montreal have been especially striking in this respect For of all contemporary events catastrophes are the most likely to be spontaneously propelled to the top of the news roster and the most susceptible to the various inflections of contemporary art photography

The Routledge Companion to Photography Theory Mark Durden, Jane Tormey, 2019-11-07 With newly commissioned essays by some of the leading writers on photography today this companion tackles some of the most pressing questions about photography theory's direction relevance and purpose This book shows how digital technologies and global dissemination have radically advanced the pluralism of photographic meaning and fundamentally transformed photography theory Having assimilated the histories of semiotic analysis and post structural theory critiques of representation continue to move away from the notion of original and copy and towards materiality process and the interdisciplinary The implications of what it means to see an image is now understood to encompass not only the optical but the conceptual ethical and haptic experience of encountering an image The fractal is now used to theorize the new condition of photography as an algorithmic medium and leads us to reposition our relationship to photographs and lend nuances to what essentially underlies any photography theory that is the relationship of the image to the real world and how we conceive what that means Diverse in its scope and themes The Routledge Companion to Photography Theory is an indispensable collection of essays and interviews for students researchers and teachers The volume also features extensive images including beautiful colour plates of key photographs

Museums and Photography Elena Stylianou, Theopisti Stylianou-Lambert, 2016-12-08 Museums and Photography combines a strong theoretical approach with international case studies to investigate the display of death in various types of museums history anthropology art ethnographic and science museums and to understand the changing role of photography in museums Contributors explore the politics and poetics of displaying death and more specifically the role of photography in representing and interpreting this difficult topic Working with nearly 20 researchers from different cultural backgrounds and disciplines the editors critically engage the recent debate on the changing role of museums exhibition meaning making and the nature of photography They offer new ways for understanding representational practices in relation to contemporary visual culture This book will appeal to researchers and museum professionals inspiring new thinking about death and the role of photography in making sense of it

Part of the acclaimed Documents of Contemporary Art series of anthologies Documentary has undergone a marked revival in recent art following a long period in which it was a denigrated and unfashionable practice This has in part been led by the exhibition of photographic and video work on political issues at Documenta and numerous biennials and since the turn of the century issues of injustice violence and trauma in increasing zones of conflict Aesthetically documentary is now one of the most prominent modes of art making in part assisted by the linked transformation and recuperation of photography and video by the gallery and museum world Unsurprisingly this development along with the close attention paid to photojournalism and mainstream documentary making in a time of crisis has been accompanied by a rich strain of theoretical and historical writing on documentary This anthology provides a definitive historical context for documentary exploring its roots in modernism and its critique under postmodernism it surveys current theoretical thinking about documentary and it examines a wide range of work by artists within around or against documentary through their own writings and interviews Artists surveyed include Kutlug Ataman Ursula Biemann Hasan Elahi Harun Farocki Omer Fast Joan Fontcuberta Regina Jos Galindo David Goldblatt Alfredo Jaar Emily Jacir Lisa F Jackson Philip Jones Griffiths An My Le Renzo Martens Boris Mikhailov Daido Moriyama Walid Raad Michael Schmidt and Sean Snyder Writers include James Agee Ariella Azoulay Walter Benjamin Adam Broomberg Judith Butler Oliver Chanarin Georges Didi Huberman John Grierson David Levi Strauss Elizabeth McCausland Carl Plantinga Jacques Rancière Martha Rosler Jean Paul Sartre Allan Sekula Susan Sontag Hito Steyerl and Trinh T Minh ha
