Debbie Go Home Alan Paton, 1985      Debbie Go Home Alan Paton, 1979      An interpretation of Alan Paton's Debbie go home and other stories Susanne Turck, 1971      The Columbia Guide to South African Literature in English Since 1945 Gareth Cornwell, Dirk Klopper, Craig Mackenzie, 2010-04-13 From the outset South Africa's history has been marked by division and conflict along racial and ethnic lines From 1948 until 1994 this division was formalized in the National Party's policy of apartheid Because apartheid intruded on every aspect of private and public life South African literature was preoccupied with the politics of race and social engineering Since the release from prison of Nelson Mandela in 1990 South Africa has been a new nation in the making inspired by a nonracial idealism yet beset by poverty and violence South African writers have responded in various ways to Njabulo Ndebele's call to rediscover the ordinary The result has been a kaleidoscope of texts in which evolving cultural forms and modes of identity are rearticulated and explored An invaluable guide for general readers as well as scholars of African literary history this comprehensive text celebrates the multiple traditions and exciting future of the South African voice Although the South African Constitution of 1994 recognizes no fewer than eleven official languages English has remained the country's literary lingua franca This book offers a narrative overview of South African literary production in English from 1945 to the postapartheid present An introduction identifies the most interesting and noteworthy writing from the period Alphabetical entries provide accurate and objective information on genres and writers An appendix lists essential authors published before 1945

chapter section surveying theoretical aspects of the African short story Chapter one examines the critical scholarship discusses the reasons for neglect and reaffirms the significance of the African short story while chapter two explores the major thematic preoccupations of the writers working in the genre Topics covered include art religion tradition and culture urban life colonial and post colonial reality and apartheid In chapter three the African short story is judged against the exacting demands of the genre with particular emphasis on verbal discipline imaginativeness and linguistic experimentations Chapter four concludes the general survey with a discussion of irony the most dominant element of style and source of appeal The book s second section offers detailed studies of the work of two writers Chinua Achebe who typifies the traditional realistic mode and Taban lo Liyong a post modernist experimentalist Each author s work is examined for general themes and artistic structures and is followed by close examinations of Achebe s Girls at War and The Madman and lo Liyong s Fixions and The Uniformed Man A brief summary chapter concludes the work This important first of its kind study will be an indispensable resource for courses in African literature African prose fiction and twentieth century short stories as well as a valuable addition to both public and academic libraries
