Decade Of Change Malaya And The Straits Settlements 19361945:

Decade of Change Bryan C. Cooper, 2001 In 70 days Britain's prestigious rule in Malaya and Singapore ended in humiliating defeat Previous colonial masters were herded into prisoner of war camps and Britain's benevolence was replaced by The Greater East Asian CoProsperity Sphere with its motto Asia for the Asians Japan's method of rule was a combination of incompetence suppression corruption and terror in vast contradiction to the brilliance of her military success In three and a half years everything changed for the worse When the Rising Sun finally set in defeat subjugated peoples were left with a legacy of impoverished turmoil bitterness and racial unrest The returning British were welcomed neither as conquering heroes nor returning masters The blemish of defeat on the white man's image had not been forgotten and had given birth to an emerging fervour of Nationalism

Malaysia and the Cold War Era Ooi Keat Gin, 2020-04-13 From the end of the Second World War in 1945 to the collapse of the Soviet Union in 1991 there was a great deal of turmoil tension and violence in what became Malaysia as a result of the 1963 Federation upheavals included the Malayan Emergency of 1948 1960 the independence of Malaya in 1957 Konfrontasi with Indonesia of 1963 1966 the Philippines claim to Sabah the Sarawak Communist Insurgency 1962 1990 and the Second Malayan Emergency of 1968 1989 This book breaks new ground in arguing for a longer trajectory of the Cold War tracing this phenomenon back to 1920s colonial Malaya and Sarawak Many new research findings showing how Malaysia coped with and overcame the many trials challenges and difficulties are presented here further enriching the historiography

Historical Dictionary of the British Empire Kenneth J. Panton, 2015-05-07 For much of the nineteenth and early twentieth centuries Britain was the dominant world power its strength based in large part on its command of an Empire that in the years immediately after World War I encompassed almost one quarter of the earth's land surface and one fifth of its population Writers boasted that the sun never set on British possessions which provided raw materials that processed in British factories could be re-exported as manufactured products to expanding colonial markets The commercial and political might was not based on any grand strategic plan of territorial acquisition however The Empire grew piecemeal shaped by the diplomatic economic and military circumstances of the times and its speedy dismemberment in the mid twentieth century was similarly a reaction to the realities of geopolitics in post World War II conditions Today the Empire has gone but it has left a legacy that remains of great significance in the modern world The Historical Dictionary of the British Empire covers its history through a chronology an introductory essay appendixes and an extensive bibliography The dictionary section has over 700 cross referenced entries on important personalities politics economy foreign relations religion and culture This book is an excellent access point for students researchers and anyone wanting to know more about Britain

Rubber Manufacturing in Malaysia C.C. Goldthorpe, 2015-06-25 Malaysia's rubber manufacturing sector is a prime example of an industry based on a locally produced agricultural resource In Rubber Manufacturing in Malaysia C.C. Goldthorpe draws on industrial policy theory along with many years of practical experience to examine the growth of rubber manufacturing in Malaysia Over the past century a series of technological discoveries resulted in the worldwide rise of a rubber production industry that manufactures tyres for motor vehicles engineering components household gloves and medical products Goldthorpe argues that the production of rubber goods has played a significant part in the transformation of the country from primary commodity producer to newly industrialized economy a position he supports by tracing the historical development of rubber based industrial production and the effects of government policies promoting industrialization Taken as a whole the rubber industry is vertically integrated with locally produced natural and synthetic rubbers used by the rubber manufacturing sector to produce latex products and general rubber goods for export markets Continent, Coast, Ocean Ooi Kee Beng, Ding Choo
