

HEALTHCARE DECISION MAKERS & INFLUENCERS

Patient & Family Support

Patients make decisions in consultation with their doctors. But are influenced by their loved ones to seek more information and sometimes are encouraged to seek medical advice in the first place. Patients and their support groups play a strong role in healthcare decision making.

Doctors & Medical Groups

Doctors directly make and strongly influence medical decisions for their patients. However, medical groups often act in concert to provide improved patient outcomes and share learnings across the practice.

Critical Practice Setting Bodies

Large clinical practice setting bodies such as the National Comprehensive Cancer Network serve to provide collective best practices among (for example) urologists as they seek to screen prostate cancer. These bodies strongly influence healthcare decisions.

Payors ( Insurance )

Insurance companies are another strong influence in the healthcare decision making process. If patients are unable to afford medication, procedures or medical devices because they are not covered or don't offer great coverage - patients may not seek the medical solution they need.

Regulatory Bodies

Regulatory bodies set standards for how drugs and medical devices should behave and what should happen when it performs outside expectations. Regulatory bodies influence both payors and doctors in their decision making process.

Muir Gray,2013-01-11 How eliminating risk illiteracy among doctors and patients will lead to better health care decision making Contrary to popular opinion one of the main problems in providing uniformly excellent health care is not lack of money but lack of knowledge on the part of both doctors and patients The studies in this book show that many doctors and most patients do not understand the available medical evidence Both patients and doctors are risk illiterate frequently unable to tell the difference between actual risk and relative risk Further unwarranted disparity in treatment decisions is the rule rather than the exception in the United States and Europe All of this contributes to much wasted spending in health care The contributors to Better Doctors Better Patients Better Decisions investigate the roots of the problem from the emphasis in medical research on technology and blockbuster drugs to the lack of education for both doctors and patients They call for a new more enlightened health care with better medical education journals that report study outcomes completely and transparently and patients in control of their personal medical records not afraid of statistics but able to use them to make informed decisions about their treatments
