Decline Of Community In Zinacantan:

The Decline of Community in Zinacantan Frank Cancian, 1994-10-01 This ambitious wide ranging work shows how national economic prosperity and government expansion in Mexico during the 1970 s transformed a relatively closed peasant community into a more outwardly connected socially differentiated society marked by dissension and overt conflict

Journal of Hispanic/Latino Theology ,1998 Latin American Research Review ,1995 Agrarian Reform Alain De Janvry, Gustavo Gordillo, Elisabeth Sadoulet, 1997 This book provides a detailed quantitative characterization of the household and community responses to the rural reforms already in progress De Janvry Gordillo and Sadoulet present and analyze data from two nationwide surveys of Mexican ejidos conducted in 1990 and 1994 Integration in Mexican Common Property Forests Camille Marie Antinori, 2000 Class Formation. Diet and Economic Transformation in Two Brazilian Fishing Communities Christopher M. O'Leary, 2002 As cash economies replace traditional ones some people develop negative associations with their traditions This is true in formerly subsistence based communities in Northeastern Brazil where newly imported foods are increasingly popular and confer prestige to their consumers in spite of their well known health risks To explore this I use longitudinal and ethnographic data in two former subsistence oriented fishing communities in the region where ecological deterioration has largely eliminated the traditional economy The two communities differ greatly in their response to this change One developed a tourist economy that allows easy access to cash and processed foods This community also attracts numerous migrants from great distances The second survives on cash remittances horticulture and commercial hunting Nevertheless fishing still plays a role in the economic life of the two towns Thus in both communities some are able to access more different foods than others In particular those with more cash income can eat more foods unknown in the two communities until recently This clearly affects nutrition in the two communities Wealthier adults not surprisingly have better nutrition in the two communities. This trend is particularly dramatic in children While poor households in the two communities generally house undernourished children boys suffer more than girls This is a rare occurrence the world over and occurs because of local expectations and treatment of children Parents treat boys this way to attempt to assure that their sons are more active and assertive This results in boys who are more likely to suffer from nutritional deficiencies than their sisters Parents however do not know this and continue to push boys into greater activity Local beliefs currently favor new foods as well Residents of both communities have strong beliefs in the health benefits of new foods and positive associations with new foods and prestige Additionally social religious and sexual life favors such foods Thus food creates local social classes with local beliefs and biology Guide to Resources and Services Inter-university Consortium for Political and Social Research, 1995 Ethnic Conflict and Governance in Comparative Perspective ,1995 Abstracts of Public Administration, Development, and Environment ,1993 Current Contents Arts and Humanities .1995 Do All Peasant Farmers Look Alike?
