Patrick Deeley

Decoding Samara:

Decoding Samara Patrick Deeley, 2000 Patrick Deeley's fourth poetry collection uses the imagery of trees to explore human emotions. The poems move from mythology the Dryads of the woods the local legends to a suburban landscape where the memories of trees and the presence of timber create an unsettling effect imaging that of the human struggle to make sense of our environment. The title signifies coming to understand the relationship with our environment samara being the one seeded fruit with a wing of some trees

Wingspan Pat Boran, 2006 Now in its 21st year the Dedalus Press is one of the major poetry imprints in Ireland. In Wingspan A Dedalus Sampler poet and publisher Pat Boran presents a selection of recent and new work by 28 Irish and international poets on the Dedalus list among them Fergus Allen Thomas Kinsella Dolores Stewart and Macdara Woods showing something of the range and diversity that is the hallmark of the Dedalus list.

The Hurley Maker's Son Patrick Deeley, 2016-04-07 Patrick Deeley's train journey home to rural East Galway in autumn 1978 was a pilgrimage of grief. His giant of a father had been felled the hurley making workshop silenced. From this moment Patrick unfolds his childhood as a series of evocative moments from the intricate workings of the timber workshop run by his father to the slow taking apart of an old tractor and the physical burial of a steam engine from his mother's steady work on an old Singer sewing machine to his father's vertiginous quickstep on the roof of their house. There are many wonderful descriptions of the natural world and delightful cameos of characters and incidents from a not so long ago country childhood. In a style reminiscent of John McGahern's Memoir Deeley's beautifully paced prose captures the rhythms struggles and rough edges of a rural life that was already dying even as he grew. This is an enchanting beautifully written account of family love loss and the unstoppable march of time.

Out to Lunch John McNamee, 2002 The European Union Decoded Maria Lorca-Susino, 2016 The European Union EU and the Eurozone became the economic integration example to follow for years. However the worldwide economic crisis that unfolded in 2007 put the whole economic integration process in question the European project in jeopardy and the euro under pressure with serious doubts that it can survive its first crisis. The core argument of this book is twofold. First it seeks to explain the difficult political economic and fiscal idiosyncrasies of all member states in order to put the reasons for the economic crisis into a new and clear perspective. Second it argues that the institutional response put forward to explain this tremendous crisis is flawed and dangerous because it does not solve the main underlying problem the deep differences among member states on their understanding of economic and financial behavior. This study counters the leading institutional explanation for the economic crisis that has impacted the entire EU. It presents a unique and provocative explanation of why the EU and the Eurozone are still immersed in an economic crisis and will be of key interest to students and scholars of European Politics and Economics.
