Decolonization Agonistics In Postcolonial Fiction:

Decolonization Agonistics in Postcolonial Fiction, 1999 This book explores through theory and in depth textual criticism how novelists from formerly colonised societies have exploited indigenous codes and conventions of aesthetic representation to transform the novel into an effective medium for cultural and political resistance to neo colonialism Concentrating on novels written between the late 1940s and early 1990s in Africa Polynesia and the West Indies it offers a fresh mode of postcolonial critique which takes account of the ideological impulses behind the novelists interpretation of the colonial experience Decolonization Agonistics in Postcolonial Fiction C. Okonkwo, 1999-05-10 This book explores through theory and in depth textual criticism how novelists from formerly colonised societies have exploited indigenous codes and conventions of aesthetic representation to transform the novel into an effective medium for cultural and political resistance to neo colonialism Concentrating on novels written between the late 1940s and early 1990s in Africa Polynesia and the West Indies it offers a fresh mode of postcolonial critique which takes account of the ideological impulses behind the novelists interpretation of the colonial experience Postcolonial Literature Pramod K. Nayar, 2008 Decolonizing Research in Cross-Cultural Contexts Kagendo Mutua, Beth Blue Swadener, 2004-02-03 International scholars share their experiences with the challenges inherent in representing indigenous cultures and decolonizing cross cultural research Neo-Imperialism in Children's Literature About Africa Yulisa Amadu Maddy, Donnarae MacCann, 2008-12-28 In this book the authors expose the neo imperialist overtones of contemporary children s fiction about Africa Examining the portrayal of African social customs religious philosophies and political structures in fiction for young people Maddy and MacCann reveal the Western biases that often infuse stories by well known Western authors Literary Theory Julie Rivkin, Michael Ryan, 2004-07-23 This anthology of classic and cutting edge statements in literary theory has now been updated to include recent influential texts in the areas of Ethnic Studies Postcolonialism and International Studies A definitive collection of classic statements in criticism and new theoretical work from the past few decades All the major schools and methods that make up the dynamic field of literary theory are represented from Formalism to Postcolonialism Enables students to familiarise themselves with the most recent developments in literary theory and with the traditions from which these new theories derive Blood Narrative Chadwick Allen, 2002-08-06 Compares the discourses of indigeneity used by Maori and Native American peoples and proposes the concept treaty discourse to characterize the relevant form of postcolonial situation Ireland and the British Empire Kevin Kenny, 2004-05-27 Modern Irish history was determined by the rise expansion and decline of the British Empire British imperial history from the age of Atlantic expansion to the age of decolonization was moulded in part by Irish experience But the nature of Ireland s position in the Empire has always been a matter of contentious dispute Was Ireland a sister kingdom and equal partner in a larger British state Or was it because of its proximity and strategic importance the Empire s most subjugated colony Contemporaries disagreed strongly on these questions and historians continue to do so Questions of this sort can only be answered historically Ireland's relationship with Britain and the Empire developed and changed over time as did the Empire itself This book offers the first comprehensive history of the subject from the early modern era through to the contemporary period The contributors seek to specify the nature of Ireland's entanglement with empire over time from the conquest and colonization of the sixteenth and seventeenth centuries through the consolidation of Ascendancy rule in the eighteenth the Act of Union in the period 1801-1921 the emergence of an Irish Free State and Republic and eventual withdrawal from the British Commonwealth in 1948 They also consider the participation of Irish people in the Empire overseas as soldiers administrators merchants migrants and missionaries the influence of Irish social administrative and constitutional precedents in other colonies and the impact of Irish nationalism and independence on the Empire at large The result is a new interpretation of Irish history in its wider imperial context which is also filled with insights on the origins expansion and decline of the British Empire

Postcolonial Theory, 1999 W.B. Yeats and Postcolonialism Deborah Fleming, 2001 Representations of Islam and the Question of Identity in the Postcolonial Context Cherif Ayoub Corra, 2008 Behind the Mask Mariaconcetta Costantini, 2002 Journal of Cultural Studies, 2001 Enlarging the Democratic Possible Alexander Keller Hirsch, 2011 Annual Report on English and American Studies, 2002 ALA Bulletin, 2003 The University Paul A. Bové, 2000 The essays collected in this issue of boundary 2 were written in response to a call for papers that would treat the contemporary university in various regions and stages of formation around the world in light of the interaction between local and global realities Underlying this project is the assumption that profound changes in economy and world organization transform the function and value of universities in tension not only with the regional histories and forces in which particular universities function but also with what used to be called the idea of the university The authors of these essays approach this topic in two ways some present the history and current situation of the university in a given place and politics and some write of the new university's political economy as the state withdraws support for higher education and hands the institutions over to entrepreneurial and transnational corporate culture None of these essays defends the idea that the university pursues knowledge for its own sake Yet there is a tinge of nostalgia for this idea or at least for the idea that the university's task is to educate to destroy bias to cultivate Of course such an idea remains the public justification for the existence of the university especially in the advanced capitalist societies whose higher classes benefit the most from the globalization of economic production
