Decolonizing Methodologies Research And Indigenous Peoples:

Decolonizing Methodologies Linda Tuhiwai Smith, 1999-02-22 transformed In the first part of the book the author critically examines the historical and philosophical base of western research Extending the work of Foucault she explores the intersections of imperialism knowledge and research Decolonizing Methodologies Professor Linda Tuhiwai Smith, 2013-10-10 A landmark in the process of decolonizing imperial Western knowledge Walter Mignolo Duke University To the colonized the term research is conflated with European colonialism the ways in which academic research has been implicated in the throes of imperialism remains a painful memory This essential volume explores intersections of imperialism and research specifically the ways in which imperialism is embedded in disciplines of knowledge and tradition as regimes of truth Concepts such as discovery and claiming are discussed and an argument presented that the decolonization of research methods will help to reclaim control over indigenous ways of knowing and being Now in its eagerly awaited second edition this bestselling book has been substantially revised with new case studies and examples and important additions on new indigenous literature the role of research in indigenous struggles for social justice which brings this essential volume urgently up to date Decolonizing Methodologies Professor Linda Tuhiwai Smith, 2021-04-08 With Decolonizing Methodologies Linda Tuhiwai Smith made us rethink the relationship between scholarly research and the legacies of colonialism and to confront the reality that for the colonized such research was often inextricably bound up with memories of exploitation Offering a visionary new decolonizing approach to research methodology her book has continued to inspire generations of decolonial and indigenous scholars This revised and expanded new edition demonstrates the continued importance of Tuhiwai Smith's work to today's struggles including the growing movement to decolonize education and the university curriculum It also features contributions from both new and established indigenous scholars on what a decolonizing approach means for both the present and future of academic research and provides practical examples of how decolonial and indigenous methodologies have been fruitfully applied to recent research projects Decolonizing Methodologies remains a definitive work in the ongoing struggle to reclaim indigenous ways of knowing and being Studyguide for Decolonizing Methodologies Cram101 Textbook Reviews, 2013-05 Never HIGHLIGHT a Book Again Virtually all testable terms concepts persons places and events are included Cram101 Textbook Outlines gives all of the outlines highlights notes for your textbook with optional online practice tests Only Cram101 Outlines are Textbook Specific Cram101 is NOT the Textbook Accompanys 9780521673761 Outlines and Highlights for Decolonizing Methodologies Cram101 Textbook Reviews, 2011-03 Never HIGHLIGHT a Book Again Virtually all of the testable terms concepts persons places and events from the textbook are included Cram101 Just the FACTS101 studyguides give all of the outlines highlights notes and quizzes for your textbook with optional online comprehensive practice tests Only Cram101 is Textbook Specific Accompanys 9781856496247 Indigenous Knowledges and Higher Education in Canada Merli Tamtik, 2025-04-30 Indigenous

Knowledges and Higher Education in Canada explores the intricate relationship between Indigenous knowledges and the evolving landscape of higher education in Canada revealing their profound influence in shaping institutional policies practices and cultures Grounded in decolonial perspectives the book addresses the persistent struggle within universities to confront ongoing colonialism and achieve systemic change Focused on shifts in institutional governance policy teaching research innovation and culture the book draws on extensive document analysis and personal narratives of Indigenous individuals across various Canadian universities Embracing a decolonial perspective it underscores the resilience of Indigenous communities in challenging traditional paradigms of higher education The book reveals how through critical grassroots efforts Indigenous peoples are reclaiming their rightful place in academia reshaping institutional dynamics from the ground up It argues that the emergence of Indigenous knowledges within academia is the result of proactive and ongoing efforts by Indigenous individuals asserting their presence in Canadian higher education Ultimately Indigenous Knowledges and Higher Education in Canada advocates for a path of decolonization through intentional learning and unlearning envisioning a future where Indigenous voices and perspectives are authentically centred in the fabric of academic discourse and practice

Indigenous Women's Voices Emma Lee, Jennifer Evans, 2022-02-24 This book is available as open access through the Bloomsbury Open Access programme and is available on www.bloomsburycollections.com When Linda Tuhiwai Smith's Decolonizing Methodologies was first published it ignited a passion for research change that respected Indigenous peoples and knowledges and campaigned to reclaim Indigenous ways of knowing and being At a time when Indigenous voices were profoundly marginalised the book advocated for an Indigenous viewpoint which represented a daily struggle to be heard and to find its place in academia Twenty years on this collection celebrates the breadth and depth of how Indigenous writers are shaping the decolonizing research world today With contributions from Indigenous female researchers this collection offers the much needed academic space to distinguish methodological approaches and overcome the novelty confines of being marginal voices

Global Perspectives on Decolonizing Postgraduate Education Gumbo, Mishack Thiza, Gaotlhobogwe, Michael, Pedzisai, Constantino, Jojo, Zingiswa Mybert Monica, Knaus, Christopher B., 2024-05-13 A deep seated issue persists in postgraduate education one that threatens the relevance of academia in our diverse and evolving world The problem at hand is the Western centric nature of postgraduate education where research paradigms methodologies and theoretical frameworks overwhelmingly reflect a Western worldview This rigid adherence to Western ideologies has left indigenous communities on the periphery of academic discourse denying them the opportunity to engage with their knowledge systems and practices Despite the richness and prevalence of indigenous knowledge the existing educational structure remains a barrier to their inclusion This disconnect is not only an academic concern but also a societal one as it hinders sustainable development and stifles the voices of indigenous scholars and students Global Perspectives on Decolonizing Postgraduate Education serves as a compelling solution to the problem at hand It offers a comprehensive

roadmap to decolonize postgraduate education infusing it with indigenous approaches paradigms theories and methods Through critical examination and practical strategies this book empowers academics curriculum designers and postgraduate students to embark on a transformative journey Living Indigenous Archives Kirsten Thorpe,2025-11-06 Living Indigenous Archives invites readers to consider new pathways for developing and sustaining archival landscapes that are embedded with respect for Indigenous worldviews and cultural flows of knowledge Drawing on First Nations experiences in Australia the book considers the need to reframe archives in order to rebalance power and restore dignity to the Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander people captured in the archives Contributing to research on the contested nature of archives and the need for archival decolonisation the book examines whether current dominant approaches to archiving and managing Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander knowledges support Indigenous people s wellbeing and recognize Indigenous sovereignty in an archival context Drawing on autoethnographical research and a series of yarning sessions with First Nations people the book shares a number of case studies that discuss themes related to Indigenous archiving These include community engagement approaches to facilitate reciprocal relationships and counter storytelling archival reparations enacting protocols to support archives spiritual and emotional care and the support for Indigenous language revitalization in archives Living Indigenous Archives highlights the need for Indigenous reclamation of archives and the dismantling of colonial archiving models that are harmful to Indigenous people s wellbeing The book s theoretical and practical underpinnings will be relevant to academics and students working in archival studies as well as those engaged in the study of library and information science Indigenous peoples and history Decolonising Methodologies Linda Tuhiwai Smith,2012 Situating the development of counterpractices of research within both Western critiques of western knowledge and global indigenous movements Higher Education Transformation in Africa Emnet Tadesse Woldegiorgis,Logan Govender,Dennis Zami Atibuni,2024-11-05 This book critically interrogates the notion of transformation in higher education focusing on epistemological and structural issues in postcolonial and contemporary Africa The book considers the multifaceted challenges facing higher education in the continent and uses the concept of transformation as a common thread weaving through a range of issues including epistemology identity relevance research collaboration and decoloniality Arguing for a holistic approach towards progressive and innovative education systems the book calls for a fundamental transformation that expands access enhances quality and competitiveness addresses past injustices and improves the capacity to act together for a more sustainable and just future Overall the book makes a powerful case for the power of transformation in higher education to shape the social economic and cultural fabric of society This book s critical evaluation of knowledge production in Africa will be an important read for researchers and policymakers involved in Africa s higher education sector Decolonizing Social Work Dr Tiani Hetherington,Professor John Coates,Professor Mel Gray,Professor Michael Yellow Bird,2013-07-28 Riding on the success of Indigenous Social Work Around the World this book provides case studies to further

Calderwood, Dr. Marina Morgenshtern, Dr. Kathleen E. Absolon (Minogiizhigokwe), 2024-04-30 Written from a critical theory de colonizing and transformative lens Re Search Methods in Social Work Linking Ways of Knowing to Knowledge Creation brings together in one space an introduction to four worldviews that inform what we call knowledge gathering knowledge construction knowledge co creation or re search depending on the worldview This text presents a broad range of methods that are commonly used to inform social work practice across Turtle Island Kanata Canada including the steps from inception to knowledge mobilization that are typically followed to acquire knowledge across Indigenous post positivist interpretivist and transformative worldviews This engaging text features reader friendly language integrated authorship that spans the four worldviews discussions of various challenges strengths and limitations in bringing together multiple ways of knowing and associated methods chapter learning outcomes and discussion questions With a focus on anti oppressive practice social justice social action collaboration and inclusion Re Search Methods in Social Work is essential for college and university social work courses and for social work practitioner researchers across Turtle Island Kanata Canada who are interested in opening their mind to a more wholistic and respectful way of engaging in dialogue about and advancing knowledge that leads to social change Decolonizing Research Jo-ann Archibald Q'um Q'um Xiiem, Jenny Bol Jun Lee-Morgan, Jason De Santolo, 2019-05-15 From Oceania to North America Indigenous peoples have created storytelling traditions of incredible depth and diversity The term Indigenous storywork has come to encompass the sheer breadth of ways in which Indigenous storytelling serves as a historical record as a form of teaching and learning and as an expression of Indigenous culture and identity But such traditions have too often been relegated to the realm of myth and legend recorded as fragmented distortions or erased altogether Decolonizing Research brings together Indigenous researchers and activists from Canada Australia and New Zealand to assert the unique value of Indigenous storywork as a focus of research and to develop methodologies that rectify the colonial attitudes inherent in much past and current scholarship By bringing together their own indigenous perspectives and by treating Indigenous storywork on its own terms the contributors illuminate valuable new avenues for research and show how such reworked scholarship can contribute to the movement for Indigenous rights and self determination Coacoochee's Bones Susan A. Miller, 2003 A man born to an elite family Coacoochee used the power of his status in creative ways and Miller uses his career to explain his leadership in terms of Seminole knowledge and governmental structure showing that Coacoochee's concept of leadership was linked as closely to spiritual as to political or military imperatives Her account offers a more nuanced understanding of the Seminole cosmos particularly the reality governing Coacoochee's awareness of his own tribe's circumstances and of long standing borderlands disputes She draws on Seminole American and Mexican sources to help untangle the histories of various emigrant tribes to the borderlands She also examines the status of Seminoles today in light of the suppression of Coacoochee's story including modern Seminole's attempts to recover their lost homeland at El Nacimiento

BOOK JACKET Teaching and Learning for Social Justice and Equity in Higher Education Laura Parson, C. Casey Ozaki, 2020-06-01 This book is the first of four edited volumes designed to reconceptualize teaching and learning in higher education through a critical lens with this inaugural publication focusing on the fundamentals behind the experience Chapter authors explore recent research on the cognitive science behind teaching and learning dispel myths on the process and provide updates to the application of traditional learning theories within the modern diverse university Through reviews of fundamental theories of teaching and learning together with specific classroom practices this volume applies social justice principles that have been traditionally seen as belonging to K 12 or adult education to higher education

Applying Indigenous Research Methods Sweeney Windchief, Timothy San Pedro, 2019-01-10 Applying Indigenous Research Methods focuses on the question of How Indigenous Research Methodologies IRMs can be used and taught across Indigenous studies and education In this collection Indigenous scholars address the importance of IRMs in their own scholarship while focusing conversations on the application with others Each chapter is co authored to model methods rooted in the sharing of stories to strengthen relationships such as yarning storywork and others The chapters offer a wealth of specific examples as told by researchers about their research methods in conversation with other scholars teachers and community members Applying Indigenous Research Methods is an interdisciplinary showcase of the ways IRMs can enhance scholarship in fields including education Indigenous studies settler colonial studies social work qualitative methodologies and beyond

Decolonizing Data Jacqueline M. Quinless, 2021-12-17 Decolonizing Data explores how ongoing structures of colonialization negatively impact the well being of Indigenous peoples and communities across Canada resulting in persistent health inequalities In addressing the social dimensions of health particularly as they affect Indigenous peoples and BIPOC communities Decolonizing Data asks Should these groups be given priority for future health policy considerations Decolonizing Data provides a deeper understanding of the social dimensions of health as applied to Indigenous peoples who have been historically underfunded in and excluded from health services programs and quality of care this inequality has most recently been seen during the COVID 19 pandemic Drawing on both western and Indigenous methodologies this unique scholarly contribution takes both a sociological perspective and the two eyed seeing approach to research methods By looking at the ways that everyday research practices contribute to the colonization of health outcomes for Indigenous peoples Decolonizing Data exposes the social dimensions of healthcare and offers a careful and respectful reflection on how to unsettle conversations about applied social research initiatives for our most vulnerable groups
