Kalissa Alexeyeff,John Taylor,2016-12-15 Tourism is vital to the economies of most Pacific nations and as such is an important site for the meaningful production of shared and disputed cultural values and practices This is especially the case when tourism intersects with other important arenas for cultural production both directly and indirectly Touring Pacific Cultures captures the central importance of tourism to the visual material and performed cultures of the Pacific region In this volume we propose to explore new directions in understanding how culture is defined produced experienced and sustained through tourism related practices across that region We ask how is cultural value ownership performance and commodification negotiated and experienced in actual lived practice as it moves with people across the Pacific This collection is a welcome addition to tourism studies or perhaps we should say post or para tourism The essays bring out many facets and experiences too quickly bundled under a single label and focused exclusively on destinations visited by outsiders Tourism we see here actively involves many different populations societies and economies a range of local global regional engagements that can be both destructive and creative Western outsiders aren't the only ones on the move Unequal power neo colonial exploitation and capitalist commodification are very much part of the picture But so are desire adventure pleasure cultural reinvention and economic development The effect overall is an attitude of alert critical ambivalence with respect to a proliferating historical phenomenon A bumpy and rewarding ride James Clifford Professor Emeritus University of California Santa Cruz American Book Publishing Record ,2006 The British National Bibliography Arthur James Wells,2004 The Writers Directory ,2013 Choice ,2008 Journal of Travel Research ,2009-11 Backpacker Tourism Kevin Hannam,Irena Ateljevic,2007 Backpacker Tourism provides an up to date assessment of the backpacker phenomenon drawing on information from various disciplines such as geography sociology anthropology management and marketing Tourism Recreation Research ,2007 Environment & Planning ,2008-05 Journal of Narrative Theory ,2001 Cultural studies critical theory poststructuralism feminist theory new historicism Information Technology & Tourism ,2003 Pushing the Margins University of Manitoba. Department of Native Studies,University of Manitoba. Department of Zoology,University of Manitoba. Faculty of Graduate Studies,2001 The Wonder of Travel Ralph Pordzik,2005 The aim of this book is to bring into focus some of the major moves in western discourses about tourism and travel writing from the early Victorian to the late modern or post western age It offers a series of readings connecting the work of travel writers as diverse as Alexander Kinglake William Cobbett George Henry Borrow E M Forster and Bruce Chatwin to their respective cultural and material contexts The grounding model is that of travel writing as a form of cultural intervention and the individual text as an artificial yet intermediary space that constantly stimulates the travellers consciousness moving them to revise judgements passed on their own as well as on the other culture In individual chapters the study explores different stages of revision in travel discourse since the late romantic age surveys new touristic models installed in the place of received notions of picturesque or adventurous travel and analyses the role of exotic and nostalgic registers in the construction of cultural value
