Deconstructing History:

Deconstructing History Alun Munslow, 2006 Surveying the latest research this welcome second edition of Alun Munslow's successful Deconstructing History provides an excellent introduction to the debates and issues of postmodernist history. This new edition has been updated and revised and along with the original discussion material and topics now assesses the claims of history as a form of truthful explanation, discusses the limits of conventional historical thinking and practice, and the responses of the new empiricists to the book's central arguments. It examines the arrival of experimental history and its implications, clarifies the utility of addressing Michael Foucault and Hayden White, and strengthens the analysis of Frank R. Ankersmit's recent work. Along with an updated glossary and a revised bibliography, this second edition will not only live up to its predecessor's reputation but will surpass it as the most essential student resource for studying history and its practice.

Deconstructing History, 1997 History Education and International Relations Hirano Mutsumi, 2009-02-12 This is the first in-depth study to examine the implications of history education in the context of international relations, interstate and transnational, focusing on Japanese textbooks as the principal case study. The author argues that despite a widespread recognition that our grasp of history has some relevance to our views and attitudes towards foreign countries and peoples, ergo ultimately its impact on national policy, there appears to be little coherent discussion of such a significant topic and its practical applications in the field of International Relations. This study therefore develops a conceptual framework and directs attention to the factors which predetermine the perceptions and attitudes of the public and policy makers and in doing so searches for the roots of their world view. The book addresses the following issues: Government Influence on the Domestic Educational Environment; The Domestic Environment and its Interaction with the External Environment; History Education in Practice: A case of Japan; The Japanese History Textbook Disputes in the Asian Context; Parts I and II: Twenty-five Years On: The Task of Coming to Terms with the Past.

The Field Douglas Booth, 2007-05-07 2006 North American Society for Sports History Book of the Year The literature on sport history is now well established, taking in a wide range of themes and covering every activity from aerobics to zorbing. However, in comparison to most mainstream histories, sport history has rarely been called upon to question its foundations and account for the basis of its historical knowledge. In this book, Booth offers a rigorous assessment of sport history as an academic discipline, exploring the ways in which professional historians can gather materials, construct and examine evidence, and present their arguments about the sporting past. Part 1 examines theories of knowledge, while Part 2 goes on to scrutinize the uses of historical knowledge in popular and academic studies of sport history. With clear structure, examples, summary tables, and a detailed glossary, The Field provides students, teachers, and researchers with an unparalleled resource to tackle issues fundamental to the future of their subject and sets the agenda for the debate to come.

Re-Writing International Relations Zeynep Gülsah Çapan, 2016-09-14 The book presents a possible way of reading and re writing the Eurocentrism of International Relations The method proposed to re write histories of the manifestations and criticisms of Eurocentrism is through connected histories The first section of the book focuses on manifestations of Eurocentrism in and through disciplinary formations and geopolitical contexts This section explores the field of IR as a problematic unit that already assumes a coloniality of power It questions the existence of fields of study and the borders between them by examining the permeability between history and IR and highlighting how Eurocentric assumptions about world politics are reproduced in the different fields The second section of the book focuses on criticisms of Eurocentrism in and through disciplines and geopolitical contexts This section explores the different ways in which theoretical strategies criticizing Eurocentrism were formulated in conversation with each other across disciplines and geopolitical contexts

The Historian and his Evidence. An Essay Emmanuel Twum Mensah, 2016-03-17 Essay from the year 2016 in the subject History Miscellaneous Kwame Nkrumah University of Science and Technology Department of History and Political Studies course Ba Hisotry language English abstract The reconstruction of the past has always been dependent on evidence from events of the past This means that history cannot be written without evidence Evidence used in history can be defined as materials that gives signs or proofs of the existence of historical events However the accumulation of evidence alone doesn t make history as they must be supported with interpretation by the historian The relationship between the historian and the evidence used in historical deconstruction is one of the major themes in history today Historical reconstructing can be explained as studying history at its most basic level and value as used in the question means the significance of the evidence in historical explanation of past events This essay seeks to explain why the evidence used in historical deconstruction owes its value to the interpreter of sources with three main points namely it is the historian who pick the evidence the historian interprets the evidence and it is the historian who organizes and present the evidence to his readers

The Philosophy of History William Sweet, 2004 The philosophy of history is an area of interest not only to philosophers but to historians and to social scientists It has been of central importance in continental European philosophy since the late 18th century and for the past half century has had a significant place in Anglo American philosophy Interest in the philosophy of history continues to grow This volume offers both an introduction to contemporary discussion in the philosophy of history and a reassessment of some of the major movements in the philosophy of history since the beginning of the 20th century Including the work of leading international scholars in the field the book presents a wide range of perspectives from different schools in philosophy and in political and social theory history and the history of ideas Traditional questions raised in the philosophy of history are explored with fresh insight the nature of history historical understanding historical objectivity the nature of the past the psychological factors in historical explanation the human significance of history alongside issues which are less frequently examined including the role of science and mathematics in history history as a social science and history as an art form As history itself remains disputed ground it is important to consider what clues history can provide for our response to issues of contemporary concern such as political realignments and economic globalisation this volume offers important insights from leading scholars in the philosophy of history The Journal of Caribbean History ,1998 The History of Sexuality Sourcebook Mathew Kuefler,2007-03 This volume is a keeper Courses based on Kuefler will illuminate their audiences and probably win teaching awards too Paul R Hyams Cornell University Transactions of the Asiatic Society of Japan Asiatic Society of Japan,2015 List of transactions v 1 41 in v 41 The Pursuit of History John Tosh,2002 This is a revised third edition of the best selling introduction to the practice of history Since first publication in 1990 John Tosh s groundbreaking guide to the study of history has helped readers find their way around difficult and sometimes controversial topics Noted for its clarity breadth and even handedness regular revision of the text has ensured it remains completely up to date Clearly structured throughout to lead the reader progressively through the issues the book s judicious non polemical approach makes it a reliable and trusted resource For readers interested in historiography Historians on History John Tosh,2000 Introducing key themes including the role of sources Marxism radicalism gender and race this reader brings into focus recent historiographic trends to promote further debate across related disciplines including philosophy and literature California History ,1998 History and Historians Mark T. is far from her true personality In Rewriting History Morris pierces the mask to get at the truth behind the distortions and omissions of Hillary's memoir Here we meet the real Hillary both good and bad the manager who makes the trains run on time but also the paranoid who sees all those who disagree with her as personal enemies the idealist but also the advice addict easily misled by the guru of the moment Morris describes Hillary's sense of entitlement and warns that it may lead deep into financial scandal And he demonstrates how Hillary dodges criticism by pretending that every attack is directed not just at her but at every working woman in America Ultimately Morris argues the Hillary Clinton of today is marketing a false front obscuring both her wants and her assets behind the phony facade of a domestic Everywoman But as she pursues higher office she also faces a choice Will she like Bobby Kennedy see the error of her ruthless ways and embrace the sincere idealism she professes Or like Richard Nixon will she allow the darker angels of her nature to overcome her jeopardizing herself and the country in the process As Rewriting History suggests we can only hope that Hillary Clinton's past performance is no guarantee of future results
