As teachers and parents we often hear that children are the best scientists Great science teachers tune in to children s interests and observations to create engaging and effective lessons This focus on the innate curiosity of children or humans overall is celebrated and used to justify and support efforts around STEM teaching and learning Yet when we discuss elementary school teachers we often hear many inside and outside the classroom report that these teachers dislike fear and feel uncomfortable with science This is exactly the opposite approach from what is universally recommended by science education scholars This practical textbook meets the immediate contextual needs of future and current elementary teachers by using an assets based approach to science teaching showing how to create inquiry based lessons differentiate instruction and lesson design based on children s developmental ages and needs and providing easy to use tools to advocate for scientific teaching and learning guided by the Next Generation Science Standards NGSS Television Studies and Research on Series Denis Newiak,Dominik Maeder,Herbert Schwaab,2024-07-17 Television series enjoy an unbroken popular as well as scholarly attention It is surprising however that in works on seriality in media and cultural studies approaches to television studies and television history still play a rather minor role Yet seriality should always be thought of in terms of television since the two have always been inextricably interwoven economically technically and aesthetically But what else constitutes the serial in television and how does it change its face in times of digitalization streaming and interactivity Is it possible to think of a genuine serial theory of the televisual and what in turn can be learned from this for seriality beyond television The essays in this volume contribute to shedding new light on the serial as a core principle of television and to providing new impulses for a television theory of the serial on the basis of diverse examples from the current range of television series
