CHAMBERLAIN, 2017-11-08 Excerpt from A Decade of Industrial Relations Research 1946 1956 In 1948 in the American Economic Association's Survey of Contemporary Economics Lloyd Reynolds authored a 33 page chapter summarizing contributions to the state of knowledge in the field of labor economics and to a lesser extent industrial relations since the early thirties It was somehow appropriate that during his term as president of the Industrial Relations Research Association that organization should have initiated a survey of the research contributions to this field in the postwar decade Although it was originally intended that this survey should be compressed within a single volume it soon became apparent that if the numerous subdivisions of the field were to be treated adequately two volumes would be needed This is the first volume The second will appear at a later date under different editorial supervision The only basis for the selection of the six areas here surveyed is that a considerable amount of research has been done in each They have not been chosen for review because they are logically related nor has any effort been made to achieve a symmetry of coverage Thus Union Government and Union Leadership our Chapter One has not been balanced by a comparable chapter on business because not so much relevant research has been done on this topic By the time of the second volume it is possible that a more significant chapter can be written on this aspect of industrial relations About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy In rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition We do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works      Industrial Relationship Neil W.
