Deconstruction II Architectural Design Profile S:

Deconstruction II, 1989      Architecture Jonathan Hill, 2001 The aim of this book is to expand the subject and matter of architecture and to explore their interdependence There are now many architectures This book acknowledges architecture far beyond the familiar boundaries of the discipline and reassesses the object at its centre the building Architectural matter is not always physical or building fabric It is whatever architecture is made of whether words bricks blood cells sounds or pixels The fifteen chapters are divided into three sections on buildings spaces and bodies which each deal with a particular understanding of architecture and architectural matter The richness and diversity of subjects and materials discussed in this book locates architecture firmly in the world as a whole not just the domain of architects In stating that architecture is far more than the work of architects this book aims not to deny the importance of architects in the production of architecture but to see their role in more balanced terms and to acknowledge other architectural producers Architecture can for example be found in the incisions of a surgeon the instructions of a choreographer or the movements of a user Architecture can be made of anything and by anyone      Kant Trouble Diane Morgan, 2002-09-11 Kant Trouble offers a highly original and incisive reading of some of the lesser known aspects of Kantian thought Throughout Morgan challenges the widely held view of Kant as the exponent of concrete and rigid rationality and argues that his airtight architectonic mode of reasoning overlooks certain topics which destabilise it These include temporary forms of architecture such as landscape gardening examples which undermine the autonomy of the Kantian subject for example freemasonry and the concept of radical evil all of which suggest that Kant's thought was capable of accommodating troubling and subversive themes Morgan's compelling discussion arrives at a fresh and ground breaking perspective on Kant whereby he is no longer to be regarded as a concrete rationalist but as a daring thinker not afraid to entertain ideas highly threatening to his own system and to the humanistic legacy of the enlightenment      Thinking Out of Sight Jacques Derrida, 2004-05-31 Jacques Derrida remains a leading voice of philosophy his works still resonating today and for more than three decades one of the main sites of Derridean deconstruction has been the arts Collecting nineteen texts spanning from 1979 to 2004 Thinking out of Sight brings to light Derrida's most inventive ideas about the making of visual artworks The book is divided into three sections The first demonstrates Derrida's preoccupation with visibility image and space The second contains interviews and collaborations with artists on topics ranging from the politics of color to the components of painting Finally the book delves into Derrida's writings on photography video cinema and theater ending with a text published just before his death about his complex relationship to his own image With many texts appearing for the first time in English Thinking out of Sight helps us better understand the critique of representation and visibility throughout Derrida's work and most importantly to assess the significance of his insights about art and its commentary      Multiform Owen Hopkins, Erin McKellar, 2021-02-23 Guest edited by Owen Hopkins and Erin McKellar Our current moment is one of profound political and economic change Historically these moments of transition have seen a parallel period of cultural and notably architectural flux In the late 1970s this was manifested in Postmodernism Today a number of architects are looking again at this movement and redeploying a range of its tactics and approaches using contemporary methods and techniques These include different modes of collage formal reference and quotation stylistic eclecticism symbolism in form material and ornament and the bold expressive use of colour both natural and synthetic While the design that results from these multiform tactics and approaches has been seen as a kind of neo Postmodernism this issue argues that this is a simplistic and superficial reading Instead it posits this phenomenon as the architectural attempt both conscious and unconscious to reflect grapple with and make sense of the current political and economic transition and the backdrop of the climate emergency Rather than responding to this situation by attempting to marshal architecture around a single unifying narrative this issue makes the case for the transformative possibilities offered by an approach that is ad hoc eclectic and pluralist Contributors Mat Barnes Jennifer Bonner Graham Burn James Crawford and Alexander Turner Mario Carpo David Knight and Cristina Monteiro David Kohn Stephen Parnell Lera Samovich Geoff Shearcroft Dirk Somers Catrina Stewart and Hugh McEwen L a Catherine Szacka and Amin Taha Featured architects AOC Architecture Bovenbouw Architectuur CAN Groupwork David Kohn Architects DK CM Fala Atelier MALL Studio MUTT Office S M Walala Studio Yinka Ilori Studio
