Adapting Stephen King Joseph Maddrey, 2021-08-04 Stephen King's fiction has formed the basis of more motion picture adaptations than any other living author Over half a century since his earliest publications Hollywood filmmakers continue to reinvent reimagine remake and reboot King's stories with mixed results This book volume 1 in a series examines the various screen adaptations of King's first three novels Carrie Salem's Lot and The Shining Reaching further than questions of fidelity to the author and adherence to directorial visions it charts the development of each individual adaptation from first option to final cut Through old and new interviews with the writers producers and directors of these films as well as in depth analyses of produced and unproduced screenplays it illuminates the adaptation process as an intricately collaborative endeavor Rather than merely synopsise the resulting stories its goal is to compare contrast and contextualize each of these adaptations as the products of their creators

Frenemies Ken Auletta, 2018-06-05 An intimate and profound reckoning with the changes buffeting the 2 trillion global advertising and marketing business from the perspective of its most powerful players by the bestselling author of Googled Advertising and marketing touches on every corner of our lives and is the invisible fuel powering almost all media. Complain about it though we might without it the world would be a darker place. And of all the industries wracked by change in the digital age few have been turned on its head as dramatically as this one has. We are a long way from the days of Don Draper as Mad Men is turned into Math Men and women though too few as an instinctual art is transformed into a science the old lions and their kingdoms are feeling real fear however bravely they might roar. Frenemies is Ken Auletta's reckoning with an industry under existential assault. He enters the rooms of the ad world's most important players some of them business partners some adversaries many frenemies a term whose ubiquitous use in this industry reveals the level of anxiety as former allies become competitors and accusations of kickbacks and corruption swirl. We meet the old guard including Sir Martin Sorrell the legendary former head of WPP the world's largest ad agency holding company while others play nice with Facebook and Google he rants some say Lear like out on the heath. There is Irwin Gotlieb maestro of the media agency GroupM the most powerful media agency but like all media agencies it is staring into the headlights as ad buying is more and more done by machine in the age of Oracle and IBM. We see the world from the vantage of its new powers like Carolyn Everson Facebook's head of Sales and other brash and scrappy creatives who are driving change as millennials and others who disdain ads as an interruption employ technology to zap them. We also peer into the future looking at what is replacing traditional advertising. And throughout we follow the industry's peerless matchmaker Michael Kassan whose company MediaLink connects all these players together serving as the industry's foremost power broker a position which feasts on times of fear and change. Frenemies is essential reading not simply because of what it says about this world but because of the potential consequences the survival of media as we know it depends on the money generated by advertising and marketing revenue that is in peril in the face of technological changes and the fraying trust between the industry's key players.
