Cradle Crew Royal Canadian Air Force World War II:

Cradle Crew Kenneth K. Blyth, 1997-01-01 Encyclopedia of World War II Alan Axelrod, 2007 A reference to the ideological military political biographical and social topics surrounding World War II which is often considered the pivotal event of the twentieth century The Mystery of Frankenberg's Canadian Airman Peter Hessel, 2005-09-02 The Mystery of Frankenberg's Airman is the account of painstaking research in a quest for the truth about an unsolved war crime Silent Heroes Sherri Greene Ottis, 2021-12-14 In the early years of World War II it was an amazing feat for an Allied airman shot down over occupied Europe to make it back to England By 1943 however pilots and crewmembers supplied with escape kits knew they had a 50 percent chance of evading capture and returning home An estimated 12 000 French civilians helped make this possible More than 5 000 airmen many of them American successfully traveled along escape lines organized much like those of the U S Underground Railroad using secret codes and stopping in safe houses If caught they risked internment in a POW camp But the French Belgian and Dutch civilians who aided them risked torture and even death Sherri Ottis writes candidly about the pilots and crewmen who walked out of occupied Europe as well as the British intelligence agency in charge of Escape and Evasion But her main focus is on the helpers those patriots who have been all but ignored in English language books and journals To research their stories Ottis hiked the Pyrenees and interviewed many of the survivors She tells of the extreme difficulty they had in avoiding Nazi infiltration by double agents of their creativity in hiding evaders in their homes sometimes in the midst of unexpected searches of their generosity in sharing their meager food supplies during wartime and of their unflagging spirit and courage in the face of a war fought on a very personal level Flying against Fate S. P. MacKenzie, 2017-08-04 During World War II Allied casualty rates in the air were high Of the roughly 125 000 who served as aircrew with Bomber Command 59 423 were killed or missing and presumed killed a fatality rate of 45 5% With odds like that it would be no surprise if there were as few atheists in cockpits as there were in foxholes and indeed many airmen faced their dangerous missions with beliefs and rituals ranging from the traditional to the outlandish Military historian S P MacKenzie considers this phenomenon in Flying against Fate a pioneering study of the important role that superstition played in combat flier morale among the Allies in World War II Mining a wealth of documents as well as a trove of published and unpublished memoirs and diaries MacKenzie examines the myriad forms combat fliers' superstitions assumed from jinxes to premonitions Most commonly airmen carried amulets or talismans lucky boots or a stuffed toy a coin whose year numbers added up to thirteen counterintuitively a boomerang Some performed rituals or avoided other acts e g having a photo taken before a flight Whatever seemed to work was worth sticking with and a heightened risk often meant an upsurge in superstitious thought and behavior MacKenzie delves into behavior analysis studies to help explain the psychology behind much of the behavior he documents not slighting the large cohort of crew members and commanders who demurred He also looks into the ways in which superstitious behavior was tolerated or even encouraged by those in command who saw it as a means of buttressing morale The first in depth exploration of just how varied and deeply felt superstitious beliefs were to tens of thousands of combat fliers Flying against Fate expands our understanding of a major aspect of the psychology of war in the air and of World War II American History ,1998 Flying Magazine ,1997-10 American Book Publishing Record ,1998 Aerospace ,1991 Incredible Tales of the Royal Canadian Air Force Cynthia Faryon,2013-11-12 More than 250 000 courageous men and women were enlisted in the RCAF during World War II They fought in all the major air operations Thousands lost their lives Only one in four aircrews completed their bomber tours some were killed in action some in training others became prisoners of war All volunteered These are the stories of the valiant Canadians who fought in this brutal war The New York Times Index ,2003 Library Journal Melvil Dewey,Richard Rogers Bowker,L.
