The Craft of Teaching Kenneth E. Eble, Kenneth Eugene Eble, 1988 This edition of Kenneth E Eble s 1976 classic on college teaching has been hailed as one of the best books every published on this topic It offers fresh insights on issues of enduring importance from how students learn how to make the best use of the classroom to the nuts bolts of assignments tests grades textbooks Eble includes entirely new chapters on developing critical thinking on how to motivate both students faculty He provides new material on the impact of computer aided instruction on mentoring as well as on the myths of teaching many other topics originally covered in the 1st ed CTE Craft Moves Stacey Shubitz, 2023-10-10 How do you choose mentor texts for your students How do you mine them for the craft lessons you want your students to learn In Craft Moves Lesson Sets for Teaching Writing with Mentor Texts Stacey Shubitz co founder of the Two Writing Teachers website uses twenty recently published picture books to create more than 180 lessons to teach various craft moves that will help your students become better writers Each of the 184 lessons in the book includes a publisher s summary a rationale or explanation of the craft move demonstrated in the book and a procedure that takes teachers and students back into the mentor text to deepen their understanding of the selected craft move A step by step guide demonstrates how to analyze a picture book for multiple craft moves Shubitz introduces picture books as teaching tools and offers ways to integrate them into your curriculum and classroom discussions She then shares different routines and classroom procedures designed to help students focus on their writing during the writer s workshop as well as focusing how teachers can prepare for small group instruction Using picture books as mentor texts will help your students not only read as writers and write with joy but also become writers who can effectively communicate meaning structure their writing write with detail and give their writing their own unique voice Craft Class Christopher Kempf, 2022-03-15 The hidden history of the creative writing workshop and the socioeconomic consequences of the craft labor metaphor In a letter dated September 1 1912 drama professor George Pierce Baker recommended the term workshop for an experimental course in playwriting he had been planning with former students at Harvard and Radcliffe This was the first time that term now ubiquitous was used in the context of creative writing pedagogy Today the MFA master of fine arts industry is a booming one with more than 200 programs and thousands of residencies and conferences for aspiring writers nationwide Almost all of these offerings operate on the workshop model In Craft Class Christopher Kempf argues that the primary institutional form of creative writing studies the workshop has remained invisible before our scholarly eyes While Baker and others marshaled craft toward economic critique craft pedagogies consolidated the authority of elite educational institutions as the MFA industry grew Transcoding professional managerial soft skills linguistic facility social and emotional discernment symbolic fluency in the language of manual labor the workshop nostalgically invokes practices that the university itself has rendered obsolete The workshop poem or short story thus shares discursive space with the craft IPA or hand loomed Pottery Barn rug a space in which one economic practice rewrites itself in the language of another just as right wing corporatism continuously rewrites itself in the language of populism Delineating an arc that extends from Boston s fin de si cle Society of Arts and Crafts through 1930s proletarian workshops to the pedagogies of Black Mountain College and the postwar MFA Craft Class reveals how present day creative writing restructures transhistorical questions of labor education and aesthetic and economic production With the rise of the workshop in American culture Kempf shows manual and mental labor have been welded together like steel plates What fissures does that weld seal shut And on whose behalf does the poet punch in

Craft Lessons Ralph Fletcher, JoAnn Portalupi, 2023-10-10 Since its publication in 1998 Craft Lessons has become a staple in the writing classroom of both new and experienced teachers Authors Ralph Fletcher and JoAnn Portalupi recognized the need for a succinct resource and teamed together to write the second edition of Craft Lessons Teaching Writing K 8 Teachers pressed for time will appreciate the practical lessons and instructional language geared to three grade level groupings K 2 3 4 and 5 8 This edition includes 17 brand new lessons mini lessons designed from teachers comments about what is observed students writing Revisions to other craft lessons and the resource materials sections have been expanded New ways to approach teaching using elements of craft and the reading writing connection A subject index to find specific craft lessons with ease The authors thoughts about how craft lessons fit into their newest thinking about the qualities of writing Ideas Design Language and Presentation The 95 lessons in this book provide a wealth of information for teaching leads character endings stronger verbs and much more This new edition reestablishes Craft Lessons as the crucial desert island book for harried writing teachers everywhere

Classroom Craft Manual Nicholas Roukes, 1960 Classroom Craft Sue Lewis, 2010 The Art and Craft of College Teaching, Second Edition Robert Rotenberg, 2012-03-15 The second edition of Rotenberg s popular guide to college teaching includes additional material on teaching in a digital environment universal design and teaching diverse students As in the first edition the book provides a hands on quick start guide to the complexities of the college classroom for instructors in their first five years of teaching independently The chapters survey the existing literature on how to effectively teach young adults offering specific solutions to the most commonly faced classroom dilemmas The author a former department chair and award winning instructor encourages the new teacher to support their students as individual learners who are engaged in a program of study beyond their individual class A focus on the choices made during the design of the course helps the instructor coordinate their class with a department or college curriculum An extensive discussion of the relationship between classroom design and class size as well as tips of assessment and grading enable the new instructor to better handle the
