Craft Reports From Around The World:

Craft Reports from Around the World World Crafts Council, 1988 Craft Reports from All Around the World Kerstin Wickman, 1988 Gary W. Babb, 2006-03-01 Earth is Ours is a fresh and uniquely original story line that bridges many genres. It is a story of a symbiotic relationship between a self-aware female computer and an American Indian man dying of old age. This is a forced relationship dictated by mutual needs for survival in a world stripped of technology by aliens. The main characters begin the fight of their lives but before they can fight the fierce aliens Levi and Amy must fight for control of who they will be jointly. What begins as conflict of minds develops into tolerance then cooperation and finally love. This love of total oneness creates a unity of incredible power and strength that provides the means to fight the aliens. Female brains and male brawn unite to battle against incredible odds for the survival of the human race. The conflict of minds, action, adventure, and suspense are all interlaced into a compelling and fast-paced adventure. The characters are three-dimensional with real emotions, not always perfect but always interacting. The story is presented from differing viewpoints with the two main characters expressing some of the same events from both a male and female perspective. As they interface the events are often seen from conflicting emotions and motivations, sometimes cynical and often humorous. It is the ultimate struggle of male versus female while combating monstrous aliens. As expected, this action story has a strong appeal to men while the romance aspect compliments the story, expanding the appeal to women. Additionally, one of the main characters is Amy, a particularly brilliant and forceful female who demands attention from both sexes. Her male counterpart is very physical and masculine, representing everything Amy is not. Both characters and sexes are presented in a positive, although conflicting way at times. These characters and the story are strong and their saga continues in its sequel Target Earth. Guide to the Information Activities of European Development Networks Unesco, 1991. Includes a profile section on list of organizations by country and network profiles. Fortress Earth Travis Hightower, 2010. Earth is a small blue world in a solar system barely hanging on to the edge of a galaxy between 200 and 400 billion stars. The race of beings that inhabit this world, the more ancient and evolved races of the galaxy, consider to be quite primitive. They are isolated, still absorbed in themselves, and alone in their view of the universe. That was how their world was supposed to stay until one of the most war-driven races of the galaxy discovers a rare resource on this tiny backwater planet and they want it. Duke Ross is unusual for a brash young fighter pilot. Underneath the headstrong and cocky exterior is the heart of a family man who loves his wife and child and enjoys the peace presented by an unusual non-aggressive martial art. As hostile invaders from the stars tear his world out from under him, Duke finds himself becoming the chosen champion of alien beings that wish to defend the Earth and restore its rightful peace in the galaxy. They bestow upon him a secret which can unlock an unimaginable power and grant the Earth and humanity its salvation. But the journey to the mythical Air Force base in the Nevada desert, known to pilots as Dreamland, will be long and dangerous for a pilot without wings. Accompanied by his faithful wingman, an incorrigible ex girlfriend turned reporter and a few other skilled allies Duke must complete a sojourn across a devastated American landscape They must fight their way past and elude a very persistent alien general who has made it his mission to capture Duke and the technology he holds But not even Duke knows the full extent of the secret power he carries or what will be revealed when he reaches his goal And in the shadows an even more sinister and ancient power plots the downfall of much more than just the tiny island fortress known as Earth Craft reports from all around the world ,1988 Earth Is Ours Gary W.
