

Seventy-six people are confirmed dead following a plane crash last night in Colombia. A charter plane carrying 72 passengers -- including players from Brazilian soccer team Chapecoense -- crashed near Medellin, Colombia. Nine crew members were also on board. The civil aviation agency had initially announced that six passengers -- three players, two crew members, and one journalist -- survived the crash. Authorities later said that one of those survivors died on the way to the hospital. Authorities will continue to search for survivors. Officials didn't specify what happened to the plane.

Driver Behaviour and Training: Volume 2 Dr. Lisa

Dorn, 2017-07-05 Research on driver behaviour over the past two decades has clearly demonstrated that the goals and motivations a driver brings to the driving task are important determinants for driver behaviour The importance of this work is underlined by statistics WHO figures show that road accidents are predicted to be the number three cause of death and injury by 2020 currently more than 20 million deaths and injuries p a The objective of this second edition and of the conference on which it is based is to describe and discuss recent advances in the study of driving behaviour and driver training It bridges the gap between practitioners in road safety and theoreticians investigating driving behaviour from a number of different perspectives and related disciplines A major focus is to consider how driver training needs to be adapted to take into account driver characteristics goals and motivations in order to raise awareness of how these may contribute to unsafe driving behaviour and to go on to promote the development of driver training courses that considers all the skills that are essential for road safety As well as setting out new approaches to driver training methodology based on many years of empirical research on driver behaviour the contributing road safety researchers and professionals consider the impact of human factors in the design of driver training as well as the traditional skills based approach Readership includes road safety researchers from a variety of different academic backgrounds senior practitioners in the field of driver training from regulatory authorities and professional driver training organizations such as the police service and private and public sector personnel who are concerned with improving road safety Chapters in a Life Martin Booker, 2011-04-07 After learning from pastors and other Christians that God would not forgive his father for committing suicide Chris lived for seventeen years as a confused atheist until God used him in an important way When he learned the truth about his fathers fate and the endless depth of Gods love through the Bible his eyes were opened and he ventured out to convince confused Christians that they had been deceived through the works of Satan on more than half of the things they had learned of the Bible Chaos breaks out when Chris sends True Saints Baptist Church on a biblical roller coaster ride as he tries to convince them that tithing all of Abrahams blessings and many other promises God made in the Bible were not promised to Christians living after Jesus died on the cross He provides biblical proof and answers very controversial Bible contradictions and also proves that the few promises God made to Christians living after Jesus died were far better than tithing speaking in tongues and many other gifts and promises that True Saints members tried to use to get blessings from God. Confident in the few promises made to Christians, Chris challenges the deacons of the church by offering to put his salvation on the line if they can find one lie in the Bible in his quest to prove that the Bible is true and all contradictions came from misinterpretations of the Bible through all denominations and all religions that kept Christians from becoming one body in Christ.

Human Factors Models for Aviation Accident Analysis and Prevention Thomas G.C. Griffin, Mark S. Young, Neville A. Stanton, 2017-03-02 The investigation and modelling of aviation accident causation is dominated by linear models Aviation is however a complex system and as such suffers from being artificially manipulated into non complex models and methods This book addresses this issue by developing a new approach to investigating aviation accident causation through information networks These networks centralise communication and the flow of information as key indicators of a system's health and risk This holistic approach focuses on the system environment the activity that takes place within it the strategies used to conduct this activity the way in which the constituent parts of the system both human and non human interact and the behaviour required Each stage of this book identifies and expands upon the potential of the information network approach maintaining firm focus on the overall health of a system The book's new model offers many potential developments and some key areas are studied in this research Through the centralisation of barriers and information nodes the method can be applied to almost any situation The application of Bayesian mathematics to historical data populations provides scope for studying error migration and barrier manipulation The book also provides application of these predictions to a flight simulator study for the purposes of validation Beyond this it also discusses the applicability of the approach to industry Through working with a legacy airline the methods discussed are used as the basis for a new and prospective safety management system

Language plays a central role in human life However the term language as defined in the language sciences of the 20th century and the traditions these have drawn on have arguably limited our thinking about what language is and does The two inter linked volumes of Thibault s study articulate crucially important aspects of an emerging new perspective shift on language the Distributed Language view that is now receiving more and more attention internationally Rejecting the classical view that the fundamental architecture of language can be localised as a number of inter related levels of formal linguistic organisation that function as the coded inputs and outputs to each other the distributed language view argues that languaging behaviour is a bio cultural organisation of process that is embodied multimodal and integrated across multiple space time scales Thibault argues that we need to think of human languaging as the distinctively human mode of our becoming and being selves in the extended human ecology and the kinds of experiencing that this makes possible Paradoxically this also means thinking about language in non linguistic ways that break the grip of the conventional meta languages for thinking about human languaging Thibault s book grounds languaging in process theory languaging and the forms of experience it actualises is always an event not a thing that we use In taking a distinctively interdisciplinary approach the book relates dialogical theories of human sense making to the distributed view of human cognition to recent thinking about distributed language to ecological psychology and to languaging as inter individual affective dynamics grounded in the subjective lives of selves In taking this approach the book considers the coordination of selves in social encounters the emergent forms of self reflexivity that characterise these encounters and the implications for how we think of and live our human sociality not as something that is mediated by over arching codes and systems but as emerging from the endogenous subjectivities of selves when they seek to coordinate with other selves and with the situations artefacts social institutions and technologies that populate the extended human ecology The two volumes aim to bring our understanding of human languaging closer to human embodiment experience and feeling while also showing how languaging enables humans to transcend local circumstances and thus to dialogue with cultural tradition Volume I focuses on the shorter timescales of bodily dynamics in languaging activity Volume II integrates the shorter timescales of body dynamics to the longer cultural historical timescales of the linguistic and cultural norms and patterns to which bodily dynamics are integrated Adelaide In-depth Accident Study, 1975-1979 A. John McLean, 1979
