Conserving Biodiversity Ian R. Swingland, 2013 For decades conservation has been based on the donor driven principle It hasn't worked For centuries environmental pollution or degradation has been addressed by the same attitude the Polluter Pays principle That hasn't worked either The cycle has to stop But while everyone talks about using a market driven approach few know how to do it Faced with the situation on the ground what do you do What is happening How can you engage a system so that it is self sustaining and the people self motivated This study explores how the growing market in carbon can help to conserve carbon based life forms It discusses how reducing global warming and saving biodiversity can both be achieved with the right market conditions The contributors include conservation biologists ecologists biologists economists lawyers community and tribal specialists financial specialists market makers environment specialists climatologists resource managers atmospheric scientists project developers and corporate fund managers

Biofuels, Solar and Wind as Renewable Energy Systems D. Pimentel, 2008-07-22 The petroleum age began about 150 years ago Easily available energy has supported major advances in agriculture industry transportation and indeed many diverse activities valued by humans Now world petroleum and natural gas supplies have peaked and their supplies will slowly decline over the next 40 50 years until depleted Although small amounts of petroleum and natural gas will remain underground it will be energetically and economically impossible to extract In the United States coal supplies could be available for as long as 40 50 years depending on how rapidly coal is utilized as a replacement for petroleum and natural gas Having been comfortable with the security provided by fossil energy especially petroleum and natural gas we appear to be slow to recognize the energy crisis in the U S and world Serious energy conservation and research on viable renewable energy technologies are needed Several renewable energy technologies already exist but sound research is needed to improve their effectiveness and economics Most of the renewable energy technologies are influenced by geographic location and face problems of intermittent energy supply and storage Most renewable technologies require extensive land a few researchers have even suggested that one half of all land biomass could be harvested in order to supply the U S with 30% of its liquid fuel Some optimistic investigations of renewable energy have failed to recognize that only 0 1% of the solar energy is captured annually in the U S
