Creation Of Technological Capability In Developing Countries:

The Creation of Technological Capability in Developing Countries John Lawrence Enos,1991 It is now widely accepted that technology is desirable indeed essential for growth and development within any economy However economists and planners have only recently started to consider the question of applying technology within developing countries

Technological Capability in the Third World K. King,M. Fransman,1984-07-12 New Generic Technologies in Developing Countries M.R. Bhagavan,2016-07-27 An examination of developing countries ability to benefit from new generic technologies in the realms of information communication biotechnology and new materials The book demonstrates why some developing countries have made considerable progress in absorbing the new technologies while most are still at the starting blocks and draws on the international donor community s experience to analyse appropriate aid policies and strategies Routledge Handbook of Industry and Development John Weiss,Michael Tribe,2015-09-16 The Routledge Handbook of Industry and Development is a global overview of industrialisation Each chapter will provide readers with contemporary insights into this this essential aspect of economic development Industrialisation has been at the forefront of discussion on economic development since the earliest days of development economics But over the last fifty years the manufacturing sectors of different countries and regions have grown at strikingly different rates In 1960 developing countries took a very small share of global manufacturing production Today the position had changed radically with fast growth of manufacturing in many parts of what was originally the developing world particularly in China and the rest of East Asia On the other hand countries in Africa and parts of Latin America have been largely left behind by this process of industrialisation This volume aims to illuminate this uneven development and takes stock of the current issues that hinder and support industrialisation in low and middle income economies This Handbook is a collection of chapters on different aspects of industrialisation experience in a range of countries Key themes include the role of manufacturing in growth the nature of structural change at different stages of development the role of manufacturing in employment creation alternative options for trade and industrial policy the key role of technology and technical change and the impact of globalisation and the spread of global value chains and foreign direct investment on prospects for industrialisation Several chapters discuss individual country experiences with examples from India Mexico South Africa and Tanzania as well as an overview of African industrialisation This authoritative Handbook will be a key reference source for those studying or wishing to understand contemporary economic development Offering inspiration and direction for future research this landmark volume will be of crucial importance to all development economics scholars and researchers Acquisition of Technological Capability in Small Firms in Developing Countries H. Romijn,1998-11-18 An authoritative examination of how small firms in developing countries acquire technological capability the knowledge and skills required to operate technology effectively and to adapt it to local conditions It fills a gap in the established literature on technological capability which has neglected the small scale sector in spite of the important role it plays in employment generation The author develops a methodology for a quantitative assessment of the learning process using case material from the small scale capital goods sector in Pakistan s Punjab Province Strengthening Technological Capability,1999 The present volume is an outcome of NISTADS FICCI joint workshop on issues related to Industry Research and Development R D interactions The workshop has provided a platform of interaction between researchers in Science and Technology studies and representatives of industries Discussions revealed that Industry R D interaction is actually a means to strengthen technological capabilities of a developing country This volume therefore has been re christened to highlight the technological capability aspect of developing economies The volume addresses the issues related to technology transfer human resource development role of technology policies institutionalization of industry R D interactions etc Contributions on experiences of South Korea and Latin American countries have been added to enrich the volume The role of international development agencies in technological capability building adds the global dimension to the issues studied The book would be of immense interest to the scholars of policy research R D organizations and industries of developing countries The policy makers and planning bodies would find the experiences and analyses useful for decision making Diversities of Innovation Ulrich Hilpert,2019-04-02 Innovation is often understood exclusively in terms of the economy but it is definitely a result of human labour and ingenuity and of the relationships among individuals and social groups Some societies and governmental structures are clearly more successful than others they act in divergent ways fostering innovation and employment and they utilize varied opportunities from different fields of research from new products and from their educational systems Thus innovation varies fundamentally between countries and public policies in matters such as energy technology environmental technologies facing climate change and advancing conditions of life can be determined according to different societies needs This volume brings together a range of world experts to compare countries and continents and help develop a fuller picture of innovations and their social basis It will be of interest to researchers in regional studies and economics as well as labour unions practitioners and policy makers Key Resolutions of the United Nations General Assembly 1946-1996 Dietrich Rauschnig,Katja Wiesbrock,Martin Lailach,1997-08-28 Key resolutions from the first fifty years of the United Nations General Assembly Innovation Systems in Emerging Economies Vanessa Casadella,2018-08-01 The aim of this book is to review the innovation systems in their classical version before defining them in the light of emerging economies through the objectives of economic and sustainable development If we return particularly to the innovation system and its importance we will show through these new MINTs that their innovation systems are perpetuated based on very localized experiments despite the fragility of their links the lack of national coherence of innovation and above all the weakness of their innovation policy Acquisition of Technological Capability in Small Firms in Developing Countries Hendrika Adriana Romijn,Henny Romijn,1996 Yearbook of the United Nations, Volume 46 (1992) United Nations,2023-08-28 Fully indexed the 1992

edition of the Yearbook is the single most current comprehensive and authoritative reference publication about the work of the United Nations other international organizations and related bodies The book is designed not just for use by diplomats officials and scholars but also by other researchers writers journalists teachers and students The year 1992 was a remarkably eventful one for the United Nations and in the conduct of international relations This volume of the Yearbook details the activities of the United Nations its many organs agencies and programmes working together to rekindle a new form of multilateral cooperation for a better world It records the diverse and globe encompassing activities of the United Nations and its enduring efforts to deal with the world s pressing concerns particularly matters of international peace and security disarmament human rights the settlement of regional conflicts economic and social development the preservation of the environment control of drugs and narcotic substance abuse crime prevention adequate shelter youth and the ageing and humanitarian assistance for refugees as well as disaster relief The Yearbooks for the years 1988 1989 and 1990 are expected to be published within the next two years
