Sports Management and Curriculum Design in Physical Education Dr. Dalwinder Singh, 2021-05-08 Sport management is an industrious field concerning the business aspects of sports and recreation. Some examples of sport managers include the front office system in professional sports, college sports managers, recreational sport managers, sports marketing, event management, facility management, sports economics, sport finance, and sports information. Bachelor's and master's degrees in sport management are offered by many colleges and universities. A number of classes outside of sport management may be relevant to the field, including classes in management, marketing, business administration, and accounting. Internships may also open opportunities within the field. In America, jobs in sport management include working for professional programs like the NFL, NBA, MLB, NHL, and other professional or non-professional sport leagues in terms of marketing, health, and promotions. Curriculum: one of the four essential components of physical education is the written, clearly articulated plan for how standards and education outcomes will be attained. School districts and schools should have a written physical education curriculum for grades K-12 that is sequential and comprehensive. It should be based on national and/or state standards and grade-level outcomes for physical education and should include learning objectives for students as well as units and lessons for teachers to implement. The physical education curriculum should mirror other school district and school curricula in its design and schedule for periodic review/update. Overall, the physical education curriculum serves the purpose of standardizing the curriculum in a school district across schools and ensuring equitable education for all students. It also results in improved teacher quality and increased consistency in instruction.

Administration and Management of Physical Education and Athletic Programs Clayne R. Jensen, Steven J. Overman, 2003. This text continues to be the foremost guide for effective planning, organizing, and managing every facet of programs in physical education and athletics. The Fourth Edition features an abundance of up-to-date information for the twenty-first century administrator on such topics as curriculum standards and trends, state of the art building, security, legal liability, and risk management, facilities planning and construction, Equal Opportunity, Affirmative Action, and Title IX legislation, and management leadership styles and theories. The authors stress the importance of determining one's own personal management philosophy. They emphasize the increasing importance of computers and other technology in program planning and evaluation, budgeting, scheduling, public relations, office management, intramurals, and other applications. The book provides expanded and updated treatments of human resource management, policies and procedures, eligibility issues, and drug testing, events planning, fitness testing, and instruction for disabled students Helpful Web sites appear at the end of each chapter to facilitate further research and study The appendices provide a comprehensive list of professional organizations and periodicals a detailed facility planning checklist physical education curriculum evaluation criteria the AAHPER code of ethics and the Society of State Directors of HPER position statements on extra class programs and interscholastic athletics BOOK JACKET Title Summary field provided by Blackwell North America Inc All Rights Reserved Management of Physical Education & Athletic Programs Charles Augustus Bucher,1987 Introduction to Careers in Health, Physical Education, and Sport Patricia A.
