Funk, Marinus Pieter van Dijk, 1980 Extract The objective of the research reported in this paper and others in the series is to develop information to assist fertilizer manufacturers and dealers develop effective marketing programs to serve the farm market The study therefore focuses on the fertilizer product service needs buying behaviour attitudes and preferences of farmers and the manner in which this information can be used to develop product price promotion and distribution policies for manufacturers and dealers Agricultural Marketing and Consumer Behavior in a Changing World Berend Wierenga, Aad van Tilburg, Klaus Günter Grunert, Jan-Benedict E.M. Steenkamp, Michel Wedel, 2012-12-06 As in many other sectors in agribusiness major changes are taking place On the demand side consumers are changing lifestyles eating and shopping habits and increasingly are demanding more accommodation of these needs in the supermarket With regard to the supply the traditional distribution channel dominators manufacturers of branded consumer products are trying hard to defend their positions against retailers who gather and use information about the consumer to streamline their enterprises and strengthen their ties with the consumer The agricultural producers meanwhile face increased regulations with regard to food additives pesticides and herbicides Pressures rise as their business becomes more specialized and capital intensive than that of their predecessors Finally the larger political climate is not so favorable to agriculture which now has to compete in the global market without significant government support This title describes and interprets changes in the domain of agriculture and food The contributors develop the theme of taking an interdisciplinary approach to coping with these changes using concepts and methods developed in general marketing which are adapted so as to apply to the particular characteristics of the food and agriculture sector This book is published to honor the distinguished career of Professor Mathew T G Meulenberg from Wageningen Agricultural University on the occasion of his retirement in September 1996 As a scientist teacher and advisor to the agribusiness and the government Professor Meulenberg has made an important contribution to the development of marketing inside and outside the domain of agriculture
