Information on the date, size, state, signature, inscriptions, catalogue raisonné, numbers, watermark, provenance and exhibition and publication history of each print precedes the extended text. That text in essay form presents relevant biographical detail, analysis of imagery, description of style and germane critical comment, footnoted with reference to publications cited in the bibliography at the end of the book. Depending upon the appearance of the original prints, illustrations are in full color or black and white in facsimile or reduced scale. Following the one hundred entries is a list of some six thousand other prints in the collection arranged alphabetically according to nationality, medium and artist. The title, date, measurements, catalogue raisonné and accession numbers of every print are specified as well as the names of the donors of gifts. Two hundred and ninety of the prints are reproduced in small black and white plates in close proximity to their locations in the list. In addition, George L McKenna has written an introduction which recounts how the print collection has been formed through the years, beginning with the first purchases in 1932.

Carol Lowrey, 2007. For more than a century, a Gilded Age mansion on the south side of New York City's Gramercy Park has been home to the National Arts Club (NAC), its magnificent interior a refuge from hectic city life. In this special catalog, Lowrey, curator of the club's permanent collection, documents selected works by Artist Life Members, artists who were given lifetime memberships in the club in exchange for one of their works; the program ended in 1950 with the advent of the abstract expressionists. The father of well known American sculptor Alexander Calder, Alexander Stirling Calder, was an Artist Life Member and his sculpture of the painter George Bellows is among the many artworks included here. Also featured are an A to Z listing of Artist Life Members and a brief history of the NAC. The catalog section includes full color reproductions and descriptions of the artworks as well as brief biographies of the artist. Many members' works show European influences, particularly impressionism and the Barbizon school, while others are distinctly American, as in the Ash Can school. A fine and fitting tribute to the NAC legacy that will be of interest to club, academic and large public libraries. 75 colour, 175 b w.
