Creating Historical Memory English Canadian Women And The Work Of History:

Creating Historical Memory Beverly Boutilier, Alison Prentice, 1997 In the early 1900s British Columbia embarked on a brief but intense effort to manufacture a modern countryside The government wished to reward veterans of the Great War with new lives soldiers and other settlers would benefit from living in a rural community considered a more healthy and moral alternative to urban life But the fundamental reason for the land resettlement project was the rise of progressive or new liberal thinking as reformers advocated an expanded role for the state in guaranteeing the prosperity and economic security of its citizens This ideological shift pushed the government to intervene directly in the management of not only society but also the natural environment As most arable accessible land in British Columbia was already being farmed by 1919 the state had to undertake environmental engineering projects on a scale not yet attempted in the province Creating a Modern Countryside examines how this process unfolded identifies its successes and failures and demonstrates how the human environment relationship of the early twentieth century shaped the province we live in today

Reading Canadian Women's and Gender History Nancy Janovicek, Carmen Nielson, 2019-05-06 Inspired by the question of what's next in the field of Canadian women's and gender history this broadly historiographical volume represents a conversation among established and emerging scholars who share a commitment to understanding the past from intersectional feminist perspectives It includes original essays on Quebecois Indigenous Black and immigrant women's histories and tackles such diverse topics as colonialism religion labour warfare sexuality and reproductive labour and justice Intended as a regenerative retrospective of a critically important field this collection both engages analytically with the current state of women's and gender historiography in Canada and draws on its rich past to generate new knowledge and areas for inquiry

Writing Women's History Since the Renaissance Mary Spongberg, 2017-03-08 The complaint of Catherine Morland in Jane Austen's Northanger Abbey that history has hardly any women at all is not an uncommon one Yet there is evidence to suggest that women have engaged in historical writing since ancient times This study traces the history of women's historical writing reclaiming the lives of individual women historians recovering women's historical writings from the past and focusing on how gender has shaped the genre of history Mary Spongberg brings together for the first time an extensive survey of the progress of women's historical writing from the Renaissance to the present demonstrating the continuities between women's historical writings in the past and the development of a distinctly woman-centred historiography Writing Women's History since the Renaissance also examines the relationship between women's history and the development of feminist consciousness suggesting that the study of history has alerted women to their unequal status and enabled them to use history to achieve women's rights Whether feminist or anti-feminist women who have had their historical writings published have served as role models for women seeking a voice in the public sphere and have been instrumental in encouraging the growth of a feminist discourse

comparison of the histories of Ontario and Quebec as seen through the handling of their best known heroines Most Canadians are familiar with stories of Madeleine de Vercheres defending Montreal against the Iroquois in 1692 and of Laura Secord and her cow bravely crossing the American lines to warn the British during the War of 1812 CRM ,2008 New Possibilities for the Past Penney Clark,2011-08-22 The place of history in school curricula has sparked heated debate in Canada Is Canadian history dead Who killed it Should history be put in the service of nation Can any history be truly inclusive New Possibilities for the Past advances the debate by shifting the focus from what should be included in a nation s history to how we should think about and teach the past Museum educators secondary school teachers historians and history educators document the state of history education research They go on to consider the implications of the research for classrooms from kindergarten to graduate school and in other contexts such as museums virtual environments and public institutional settings This book takes into consideration the perspectives of indigenous peoples the citizens of Quebec and advocates of citizenship education This volume sets a comprehensive research agenda for educators policy makers and historians to help students learn about and more importantly understand the significance of the past History of the Canadian Peoples Margaret Conrad,Alvin Finkel,2002 Who's Who of Canadian Women, 1999-2000 Gillian Holmes,1999-06-01 Who s Who of Canadian Women is a guide to the most powerfuland innovative women in Canada Celebrating the talents and achievement of over 3 700 women Who s Who of Canadian Women includes women from all over Canada in all fields including agriculture academia law business politics journalism religion sports and entertainment Each biography includes such information as personal data education career history current employment affiliations interests and honours A special comment section reveals personal thoughts goals and achievements of the profiled individual Entries are indexed by employment of affiliation for easy reference Published every two years Who s Who of Canadian Women selects its biographees on merit alone This collection is an essential resource for all those interested in the achievements of Canadian women The Canadian Historical Review ,2002 Canadian Book Review Annual ,1997 Current Contents Institute for Scientific Information (Philadelphia),2002 University of Toronto Quarterly University of Toronto,1999 Feminist Periodicals ,1999 America, History and Life ,2003 Provides historical coverage of the United States and Canada from prehistory to the present Includes information abstracted from over 2 000 journals published worldwide Bibliographic Guide to Womens Studies 1998 New York Public Library Staff,1999-08 GRADIVA JOURNAL OF CONTEMPORARY THEORY AND PRACTICE ,2000 Quill & Quire ,1999 New Books on Women and Feminism ,1999 Medieval Feminist Forum ,2005 Labouring the Canadian Millennium Bryan D. Palmer,Canadian Committee on Labour History,2000 This is a collection of commissioned essays that are purposively eclectic but that address themes of importance in understanding labour s significance and history over the course of the last century as well as suggesting how labour will inevitably face changing circumstances
