Creating Partnerships Unleashing Collaborative Power In The Workplace:

Creating Partnerships Cynthia King, 2005 Creating Partnerships addresses the frustration generated by office politics backstabbing turf battles and micromanagement which contribute to declining morale and decreased productivity The story of a federal agency that breaks out of the bureaucratic mold transforms itself into a truly partnership organization and has a 9 year track record of productive partnerships is told in the voices of those who made it happen Their story is complemented with the presentation of how the Partnership Model works how it represents a fundamentally different organizational operating system and how it releases the latent power in a workforce that has been long constrained by traditional management practices and partisanship This untapped Collaborative Power captures the shared power of synergy treating conflicts as learning opportunities and re humanizing individuals rather than dehumanizing them Ten Key Actions required for making the transition into a partnership organization are presented

The Mother and the Manager Elizabeth Ralston, 2014-08-22 In The Mother And The Manager Elizabeth Ralston courageously explores how our traditional gender roles create codependent behaviors in men and women and offers positive workable solutions toward dealing with this problem The Mother And The Manager takes an in depth look at how our society has evolved and impacted gender roles into the twenty first century As 12 Step recovery groups have flourished in recent years women have been educated about why they have issues such as low self esteem perfectionism rigidity relationship failures inability to get their needs met and fear of conflict Elizabeth has bravely shared about how patriarchy has impacted her life and how recovery has helped her to empower and heal herself She will help many who are searching for answers to their questions and will help them on the road to recovery I salute her ability to face her fears about rocking the boat in writing this book and taking the risk to speak her truth and stay on her God inspired path Ginger S Edwards Licensed Professional Counselor Licensed Addictions Specialist Specializing in Codependency and Trauma
