Creating A Chinese Harbin Nationalism In An International City 1916 1932:

Creating a Chinese Harbin James H. Carter, 2019-06-30 James H Carter outlines the birth of Chinese nationalism in an unlikely setting the international city of Harbin Planned and built by Russian railway engineers the city rose quickly from the Manchurian plain changing from a small fishing village to a modern city in less than a generation Russian Chinese Korean Polish Jewish French and British residents filled this multiethnic city on the Sungari River The Chinese took over Harbin after the October Revolution and ruled it from 1918 until the Japanese founded the puppet state of Manchukuo in 1932 In his account of the radical changes that this unique city experienced over a brief span of time Carter examines the majority Chinese population and its developing Chinese identity in an urban area of fifty languages Originally Carter argues its nascent nationalism defined itself against the foreign presence in the city while using foreign resources to modernize the area Early versions of Chinese nationalism embraced both nation and state By the late 1920s the two strands had separated to such an extent that Chinese police fired on Chinese student protesters This division eased the way for Japanese occupation the Chinese state structure proved a fruitful source of administrative collaboration for the area s new rulers in the 1930s

Nationalism in an International City James Hugh Carter, 1998 Empire and Environment in the Making of Manchuria Norman Smith, 2017-02-10 Since the seventeenth century Chinese Japanese Manchu Russian and other imperial forces have defied Manchuria s unrelenting summers and unforgiving winters to fight for sovereignty over the natural resources of Northeast Asia Until now historians have focused on rivalries between the region s imperial invaders Empire and Environment in the Making of Manchuria examines the interplay of climate and competing economic and political interests in the region s vibrant and violent cultural narrative In this unique and compelling analysis of Manchuria s environmental history contributors demonstrate how geography shaped the region s past Families that settled this borderland reaped its riches while at the mercy of an unforgiving and hotly contested landscape As China s strength as a world leader continues to grow this volume invites exploration of the indelible links between empire and environment and shows how the geopolitical future of this global economic powerhouse is rooted in its past Administering the Colonizer Blaine R. Chiasson, 2011-01-01 In the 1920s Westerners viewed Harbin in North Manchuria as a world turned upside down Located in a former Chinese Eastern Railway concession with a significant Russian population the city and the Special District in which it resided were represented as places that had reversed the natural racial hierarchy a place where white was the ruled and not the ruler Administering the Colonizer explores how a non Western culture dealt with the Western minority under its administration It reveals that contrary to observations and ideological and national histories emanating from Moscow and present day Beijing republican China created policies in a number of areas that not only promoted its own sovereignty but also protected the Russian minority A historical examination of how an ethnic cultural and racial majority coexisted with a minority of a different culture and race his book also restores to history the multiple national influences that have shaped northern China and Chinese nationalism Tombs and Transnational History in Greater China Gotelind Müller, 2022 This collection of case studies is concerned with tombs that testify to transnational history Special attention is given to tombs of Westerners and Russians still extant in Greater China but also to those of some noted Chinese who were involved in transnational history during the 20th century Tombs have a special potential to cast familiar things in a new light They also provide the possibility to counter check received narratives which might have been tailored along certain vested interests and circulated with specific target groups in mind Consuming the Entrepreneurial City Anne Cronin, Kevin Hetherington, 2008-04-07 This collection offers a global perspective on the changing character of cities and the increasing importance that consumer culture plays in defining their symbolic economies Increasingly forms of spectacle have come to shape how cities are imagined and to influence their character and the practices through which we know them from advertising and the selling of real estate to youth cultural consumption practices and forms of entrepreneurship to the regeneration of urban areas under the guise of the heritage industry and the development of a WiFi landscape Using examples of cities such as New York Sydney Atlantic City Barcelona Rio de Janeiro Douala Liverpool San Juan Berlin and Harbin this book illustrates how image and practice have become entangled in the performance of the symbolic economy It also argues that it is not just how the urban present is being shaped in this way that is significant to the development of cities but also that a prominent feature of their development has been the spectacular imagining of the past as heritage and through regeneration Yet the ghosts that this conjures up in practice offer us a possible form of political unsettlement and alternative ways of viewing cities that is only just beginning to be explored Through this important collection by some of the leading analysts of consumption cities and space Consuming the Entrepreneurial City offers a cutting edge analysis of the ways in which cities are developing and the implications this has for their future It is essential reading for students of Urban Studies Geography Sociology Cultural Studies Heritage Studies and Anthropology Canadian Review of Studies in Nationalism, 2004 China Perspectives, 2003 Harbin and Manchuria Thomas Lahusen, 2001 This special issue of South Atlantic Quarterly focuses on the layered cultures of the northeast China city of Harbin and the region formerly known as Manchuria During the first half of the twentieth century Harbin a by product of the construction of the Chinese Eastern Railway at the turn of the century and the rest of Manchuria became the site of conflicting and competing Russian Western Japanese and Chinese colonialisms Home to migrants from the famine ridden Shandong province impoverished Japanese settlers Jews fleeing the pogroms of Russia White Russians escaping the civil war and Koreans caught between Japanese expansionism and Chinese nationalism Harbin was a colonial place like no other one that eventually comprised more than fifty nationalities speaking forty five languages Crossing the boundaries of their specializations contributors respond to the complexity of this history while considering the concrete concept of place and its relation to the more abstract idea of space A rare encounter between scholars of East Asian and Slavic studies this well illustrated collection includes discussions of history politics economics anthropology sociology cinema and cultural studies An eclectic and comprehensive exploration of memory and its reconstruction in the Harbin Manchuria diaspora Harbin and Manchuria provides the first full treatment of this colonial encounter Contributors Olga Bakich Sabine Breuillard James Carter Elena Chernolutskaia Prasenjit Duara Thomas Lahusen Hyun Ok Park Andre Schmid Mariko Asano Tamanoi David Wolff China Review ,2003 Crossed Histories Mariko Tamanoi,2005-04-30 Crossed Histories represents a collaborative and interdisciplinary approach to Manchuria under Japan s influence from the turn of the twentieth century to 1945 The contributors who represent the fields of history literature film studies sociology and anthropology unpack the complexity of Manchuria as an effect of the geopolitical imaginaries of various individuals and groups shaped by imperialism colonialism Pan Asianism and the present globalization Manchuria is thus examined in the imaginations of a Chinese journalist and his Shanghai readers in the 1930s prewar Japanese city planners and architects a Manchu princess later executed by the Chinese nationalist government various audiences of Japanese goodwill films of the 1930s and 1940s the seven thousand Poles who immigrated to northern Manchuria in the late nineteenth and early twentieth centuries the state makers of Manchukuo which included both Japanese and Chinese leaders and North and South Korea during the Cold War era and a student of Manchuria Nation Building University in the mid 1940s The Many Layers of Culture Within Each City Robert N.
