Gürses, Metin Açıkyıldız, Kübra Güneş, M. Sadi Gürses, 2016-05-04 In this book the authors go back to basics to describe the structural differences between dyes and pigments their mechanisms of action properties and applications They set the scene by explaining the reasons behind these differences and show how dyes are predominately organic compounds that dissolve or react with substrates whereas pigments are predominantly finely ground inorganic substances that are insoluble and therefore have a different mode of coloring They also describe the role of functional groups and their effect on dyeing ability contrasting this with the way in which pigments cause surface reflection or light absorption depending on their chemical and crystalline structure and relative particle size The book explores the environmental impact of dyes in a section that covers the physical chemical toxicological and ecological properties of dyes and how these are used to assess their effect on the environment and to estimate whether a given product presents a potential hazard Lastly it assesses how in addition to their traditional uses in the textile leather paper paint and varnish industries dyes and pigments are indispensable in other fields such as microelectronics medical diagnostics and in information recording techniques Small Press Record of Books in Print Len Fulton, 1993 Subject Guide to Books in Print, 1993 The Creative Producing Handbook Katherine Beyda, 2025-05-29 Written by the head of physical production at New Line Cinema The Creative Producing Handbook An Insider's Guide to Production provides a detailed overview of creative film production and what it takes to make it as a producer or executive in today's industry The book explains in detail the process of filmmaking delving into the world of film and television production from script development through the entire production and postproduction process up to release The book starts by providing an introduction to the key players on a production and explores the differences between the studio and production company worlds Beyda explains the process of getting to and through production in a linear fashion beginning with scheduling location decisions incentives and budgeting The book provides explanations and definitions of the various unions and guilds and outlines some of the rules that filmmakers will need to be aware of It further discusses clearances and product placement and then proceeds to visual effects postproduction and music before ending with the worlds of marketing and publicity The book provides examples and assignments to teach a reader how to formulate a plan for production that can be used to pitch a project or run a set This is a great resource for aspiring producers and creative executives who want to enter the film and television industry and provides an understanding of the filmmaking process for those who just want to know more Handbook of Furniture Styles Walter Alden Dyer, 1918 Colours from Nature Jenny Dean, 2018 Describes how to prepare and use natural dyes on a variety of fibers to produce a wide range of colors following safe and environmentally friendly methods Colours from Nature Jenny Dean, 2009 The comprehensive recipe section gives instructions for over 100 colours using both traditional dyes such as cochineal indigo madder and weld and dyes from more common plants such as blackberry rhubarb oak and walnut Color Trade Journal, 1922 A Revolution in Colour Giorgio Riello, Maria Hayward, Ulinka Rublack, 2024-09-19 This major volume aims to re colour the European world of dress c 1300 1800 New dyes created one of the most important visual experiences of the period yet their story has been side lined by a focus on visual experiences shaped by the high arts Meanwhile theatrical productions and period films still abound with broad assumptions about the growing dominance of black clothing for elites during the period while ordinary people are imagined having worn coarse greys and bleached garments This volume presents clear evidence that even the clothing of the middle classes could be much more expensive than paintings and that coloured clothing and accessories were ubiquitous across society Contributors shed new light on the economic environmental and cultural dimensions of colour in dress The range of dyes expanded considerably in the sixteenth and seventeenth centuries drawing on Asian and Mediterranean knowledge new collections of recipes and the greater diversity of plants available through New World trade Working creatively with organic plant animal and mineral materials to make colours involved considerable knowledge pleasure and skill The creation of colour through dyes thus reveals a whole range of global agricultural and craft technologies that can inspire future material worlds and transforms our understanding of Europe s cultural heritage
