American Indian Ethnic Renewal Joane Nagel, 1997-09-25 Does activism matter This book answers with a clear yes American Indian Ethnic Renewal traces the growth of the American Indian population over the past forty years when the number of Native Americans grew from fewer than one half million in 1950 to nearly 2 million in 1990 This quadrupling of the American Indian population cannot be explained by rising birth rates declining death rates or immigration Instead the growth in the number of American Indians is the result of an increased willingness of Americans to identify themselves as Indians What is driving this increased ethnic identification In American Indian Ethnic Renewal Joane Nagel identifies several historical forces which have converged to create an urban Indian population base a reservation and urban Indian organizational infrastructure and a broad cultural climate of ethnic pride and militancy Central among these forces was federal Indian Termination policy which ironically was designed to assimilate and de tribalize Native America Reactions against Termination were nurtured by the Civil Rights era atmosphere of ethnic pride to become a central focus of the native rights activist movement known as Red Power This resurgence of American Indian ethnic pride inspired increased Indian ethnic identification launched a renaissance in American Indian culture language art and spirituality and eventually contributed to the replacement of Termination with new federal policies affirming tribal Self Determination American Indian Ethnic Renewal offers a general theory of ethnic resurgence which stresses both structure and agency the role of politics and the importance of collective and individual action in understanding how ethnic groups revitalize and reinvent themselves Scholars and students of American Indians social movements and activism and recent United States history as well as the general reader interested in Native American life will all find this an engaging and informative work Struggle for Ethnic Identity Pyong Gap Min,1999-01-20 Dr Pyong Gap Min and Rose Kim present a compilation of narratives on ethnic identity written by first 1 5 and second generation Asian American professionals In an attempt to reconcile the dichotomies long associated with being both Asian and American these narratives trace the formation of each author s ethnic identity and discuss its importance in shaping his or her professional career The narratives touch upon common themes of prejudice and discrimination loss and retention of ethnic subculture ethnic versus non ethnic friendship networks and racial and inter racial dating patterns When coupled with Dr Min s comprehensive introductory chapter on contemporary trends in the study of ethnicity these narratives prove that constructing one s ethnicity is truly a dynamic process and serve as an invaluable resource for anyone interested in teaching or studying the concepts of ethnic identity Handbook of Constructionist Research James A.
