Creating The Culture Of Reform In Antebellum Ameri:

Creating the Culture of Reform in Antebellum America T. Gregory Garvey, 2010-01-25 In this study T Gregory Garvey illustrates how activists and reformers claimed the instruments of mass media to create a freestanding culture of reform that enabled voices disfranchised by church or state to speak as equals in public debates over the nation s values Competition among antebellum reformers in religion women's rights and antislavery institutionalized a structure of ideological debate that continues to define popular reform movements The foundations of the culture of reform lie according to Garvey in the reconstruction of publicity that coincided with the religious sectarian struggles of the early nineteenth century To counter challenges to their authority and to retain church members both conservative and liberal religious factions developed instruments of reform propaganda newspapers conventions circuit riders revivals that were adapted by an emerging class of professional secular reformers in the women's rights and antislavery movements Garvey argues that debate among the reformers created a mode of critical conversation through which reformers of all ideological persuasions collectively forged new conventions of public discourse as they struggled to shape public opinion Focusing on debates between Lyman Beecher and William Ellery Channing over religious doctrine Angelina Grimke and Catharine Beecher over women s participation in antislavery and William Lloyd Garrison and Frederick Douglass over the ethics of political participation Garvey argues that crucible like sites of public debate emerged as the core of the culture of reform To emphasize the redefinition of publicity provoked by antebellum reform movements Garvey concludes the book with a chapter that presents Emersonian self reliance as an effort to transform the partisan nature of reform discourse into a model of sincere public speech that affirms both self and community America, History and Life ,2007 Article abstracts and citations of reviews and dissertations covering the United States and Canada Making the World Safe Julia Irwin, 2013-05-23 In Making the World Safe historian Julia Irwin offers an insightful account of the American Red Cross from its founding in 1881 by Clara Barton to its rise as the government's official voluntary aid agency Equally important Irwin shows that the story of the Red Cross is simultaneously a story of how Americans first began to see foreign aid as a key element in their relations with the world As the American Century dawned more and more Americans saw the need to engage in world affairs and to make the world a safer place not by military action but through humanitarian aid It was a time perfectly suited for the rise of the ARC Irwin shows how the early and vigorous support of William H Taft who was honorary president of the ARC even as he served as President of the United States gave the Red Cross invaluable connections with the federal government eventually making it the official agency to administer aid both at home and abroad Irwin describes how during World War I the ARC grew at an explosive rate and extended its relief work for European civilians into a humanitarian undertaking of massive proportions an effort that was also a major propaganda coup Irwin also shows how in the interwar years the ARC s mission meshed well with presidential diplomatic styles and how with the coming of World War II the ARC once again grew exponentially becoming a powerful part of government efforts to bring aid to war torn parts of the world The belief in the value of foreign aid remains a central pillar of U S foreign relations Making the World Safe reveals how this belief took hold in America and the role of the American Red Cross in promoting it Class and the Making of American Literature Andrew Lawson, 2014-03-14 This book refocuses current understandings of American Literature from the revolutionary period to the present day through an analytical accounting of class reestablishing a foundation for discussions of class in American culture American Studies scholars have explored the ways in which American society operates through inequality and modes of social control focusing primarily on issues of status group identities involving race ethnicity gender sexuality and disability. The essays in this volume focus on both the historically changing experience of class and its continuing hold on American life The collection visits popular as well as canonical literature recognizing that class is constructed in and mediated by the affective and the sensational It analyzes class division class difference and class identity in American culture enabling readers to grasp why class matters as well as the economic social and political matter of class Redefining the field of American literary cultural studies and asking it to rethink its preoccupation with race and gender as primary determinants of identity contributors explore the disciplining of the laboring body and of the emotions the political role of the novel in contesting the limits of class power and authority and the role of the modern consumer culture in both blurring and sharpening class divisions Women and the Republican Party, 1854-1924 Melanie Susan Gustafson, 2001-10-15 Acclaimed as groundbreaking since its publication Women and the Republican Party 1854 1924 explores the forces that propelled women to partisan activism in an era of widespread disfranchisement and provides a new perspective on how women fashioned their political strategies and identities before and after 1920 Melanie Susan Gustafson examines women s partisan history against the backdrop of women s political culture Contesting the accepted notion that women were uninvolved in political parties before gaining the vote Gustafson reveals the length and depth of women s partisan activism between the founding of the Republican Party whose abolitionist agenda captured the loyalty of many women and the passage of the Nineteenth Amendment Her account also looks at the complex interplay of partisan and nonpartisan activity the fierce debates among women about how to best use their influence the ebb and flow of enthusiasm for women s participation and the third parties that fused the civic world of reform organizations with Cultural Change and the Market the electoral world of voting and legislation The Southern Historian ,2005 Revolution in America, 1789-1860 Scott C.
