Caught In Crossfire:

Caught in Crossfire Ed Cairns,1987-08 Since the start of the current troubles Northern Ireland's children have been the focus of much media attention. Variouslly portrayed as innocent victims of adult violence or unwitting accomplices in the continuing conflict they have featured widely in the press and on television. But just how accurate is this popular image of children caught in crossfire? Ed Cairns has gone behind the dramatic headline snatching consequences of growing up in Northern Ireland to examine the more subtle long term effects. How do children become aware of the violence around them? How do they become involved directly or indirectly in it? How is their moral and political development affected by their situation? And what is it that so effectively ensures the perpetuation of the bitterness and violence between the two sections of the community from generation to generation? These and other key questions are investigated in this important book. It is essential reading for everyone concerned about children growing up in Northern Ireland. Caught in the Crossfire Patricia Chater,1985 Caught In The Crossfire David Drake,1998-07-01 THEY WERE THE BEST THEY WERE HAMMER'S SLAMMERS In war the only rule is survival. People on the side that hires Hammer's Slammers have the best chance of surviving. Mercenary leader Alois Hammer has created an armored regiment that wins battles because it has better equipment and training than the opposition and wins wars because Colonel Hammer and his troops are willing to do absolutely anything that's necessary to succeed. If that means vaporizing a village or drowning a riot in blood they'll do the job. They're being paid for. There is an infinite number of moral shades to the decisions a war requires. The winner is usually the side whose troops pull the trigger anyway because they know that the worst decision in a crisis is no decision at all. After a war the survivors have regrets. Nobody else has anything at all. Handgun Crime Control, 1975-1976: Oversight of 1968 Gun Control Act United States. Congress. Senate. Committee on the Judiciary. His ultimate aim? The utter destruction of all his enemies and he doesn't care who gets in his way. Can The Wraith bring this deadly villain to justice while being caught in the middle of a savage gang war? And who is causing the widespread depression in Metro City?
