Inquiry in the Classroom Eleanor Abrams,Sherry Southerland,Peggy Silva,2007-11-01 The purpose of this text is to further flesh out some of the factors specific dimensions of our n dimensional hyperspace important to inquiry in the classroom As such some of the of the factors have already been introduced others will be new to the conversation In our discussions that lead to the preparation of this manuscript it became clear that each of us was interested in classroom inquiry and so we each wanted to situate our analysis in these classrooms For that purpose our discussions are organized into sections Each section begins with one or more vignette snippets of science classrooms that the authors then discuss how this vignette demonstrates some aspect of the specific dimension that they are charged with discussing Because inquiry is so multifaceted and its portrayals are often complex and nuanced the discussion of the dimension is broken into separate essays each of which addresses the focal dimension in different ways Following the essay a broader discussion across the essays is offered to support your sense making As we began this effort we selected what we understood to be the most influential dimensions of inquiry in the classroom But certainly there are others that can and should have been included i e the role of curriculum in supporting or confining the enactment of inquiry the manner in which inquiry can shape students knowledge the role systemic efforts can have in enabling inquiry But given the confines of one text we ve chosen what we understood to be the central components and these have been arranged into 6 sections Our vision is that each of these sections can be self supporting so their appearance in the text doesn t represent the order in which they must be read Ideally the reader would engage in the introduction then select the section that addresses the dimension influencing classroom inquiry that is of greatest importance The only exception to this is section 6 which is a specific form of enactment of classroom inquiry engagement with this section may be best augmented after reading the sections that interest you

Daredevil research Janice Jipson,Nicholas Paley,1997-03-01 Daredevil Research Re creating Analytic Practice gathers together ten research projects that seek to transform thinking about analytic practice and the construction of research knowledge By experimenting with alternative models of representation unconstrained by the weight of traditional research protocols the authors create multiple spaces for imagining how to differently identify issues for inquiry select modes of analysis and inscribe data into transmittable form At once a production of research knowledge and a conceptual field for meaning making Daredevil Research suggests the possibilities of analytic practice in imaginative independent space

In Defense of Good Teaching Kenneth S. Goodman,1998 Is whole language the cause of the problems that beset our schools Is the debate between whole language and phonics a cover up for control of what and how students learn Is it appropriate that legislators lobbyists textbook publishers and private interest groups evaluate and promote research on teaching and learning Is Christian fundamentalism being exploited by political and economic groups Is the attack on whole language supported by research that is valid Is the issue of teaching reading now so polarized that even a balanced approach is no longer acceptable in some schools These questions have come out of the reading wars And teachers now must be articulate and knowledgeable defendants of their own positions in the debate if they are to retain control of their profession In Defense of Good Teaching is the whole language community's first concerted response to its attackers reveals some disturbing truths in the reading wars deliberate misrepresentation of ideas about the role of the press conflicting political agendas played out in our schools teachers and administrators marginalized for their beliefs and commercial interests dressed up as scientific research This is an alarming and enlightening book and as the dispute broadens to affect teaching of math and bilingual education it is an important book It will be invaluable to teachers who want the means and strategies to respond to criticism to analyze arguments and to defend their position More is at stake than whole language Literature and Lives Allen Webb, 2001 Telling stories from secondary and college English classrooms this book explores the new possibilities for teaching and learning generated by bringing together reader response and cultural studies approaches The book connects William Shakespeare Charles Dickens Mark Twain and other canonical figures to multicultural writers popular culture film testimonial politics history and issues relevant to contemporary youth Each chapter contains brief explications of literary scholarship and theory and each is followed by extensive annotated bibliographies of multicultural literature approachable scholarship and theory and relevant Internet sites Each chapter also contains descriptions of classroom units and activities focusing on a particular theme such as genocide homelessness race gender youth violence post colonialism class relations and censorship and discussion of ways in which students often respond to such hot button topics Chapters in the book are 1 A Course in Contemporary World Literature 2 Teaching about Homelessness 3 Genderizing the Curriculum A Personal Journey 4 Addressing the Youth Violence Crisis 5 Shakespeare and the New Multicultural British and World Literatures 6 Huckleberry Finn and the Issue of Race in Today's Classroom 7 Testimonial Autoethnography and the Future of English and 8 Conclusion Contains approximately 350 references Appendixes contain an email exchange between the author and a first year inner city teacher a note to teachers on the truth of Rigoberta Menchu's testimonial a brief account of philology a 13 item annotated bibliography of readings in literary theory for English teachers and lists of web sites exploring literary theory and cultural studies supporting literature teaching and for new teachers NKA The Social Studies Professional, 1999
