Caxton And His World:

Caxton and His World Norman Francis Blake, 1969      The Malory Debate Bonnie Wheeler, Robert L. Kindrick, Michael Norman Salda, 2000 Seminal essays on one of the most crucial issues in Arthurian studies      Translation, Transformation and Transubstantiation in the Late Middle Ages Carol Poster, Richard J. Utz, 1998 This is the third volume in a series of studies on the late Middle Ages covering the period from around 1300 to 1550 Each volume aims to provide exhaustive and diverse treatments of one significant example of late medieval culture Volume three explores transformation and translation      Caxton's Morte Darthur Takako Kato, 2002 Revisiting the fundamental texts of Sir Thomas Malory's Morte Darthur the Winchester manuscript and William Caxton's printed edition and investigating what happened in Caxton's workshop are the best ways of discovering what Malory intended to write This study investigates the irregular use of paragraphs and the missing chapter divisions in Caxton's Morte and reveals frequent alterations to it in order to fit his text on the page It identifies the points at which alterations are most likely to have been made and suggests that Caxton may have consulted the Winchester manuscript while he was preparing his edition regularly with regard to textual divisions      Malory's Contemporary Audience Thomas Crofts, 2006 This book seeks to place Malory's Morte Darthur more firmly in its cultural and historical context Its composition in the mid to late fifteenth century took place at a time of great upheaval for England a period beginning with the loss of Bordeaux and the Hundred Years War and ending with the rise of Richard III During this time the Morte was translated from numerous French sources copied by scribes and finally in July 1485 printed by William Caxton The author argues that in this unique production history are reflected the ideological crises which loomed so massively over England's ruling class in the fifteenth century and that the book is in fact inseparable from these crises BOOK JACKET      The World's Best Essays David Josiah Brewer, 1900      Caxton's Golden Legend Jacobus (de Voragine), 2020 This is volume I of the first scholarly edition of the Golden Legend the largest and most elaborate production of the first printer in English William Caxton It is an English translation of Jacobus de Voragine's Legenda aurea ca 1267 a collection of legends for the feasts of saints the Sanctorale and other major days of the liturgical year the Temporale The Legenda aurea was one of the most popular and influential books in the later medieval Western world it circulated widely and was repeatedly translated into many vernacular languages This volume reproduces Caxton's original text of the Temporale with modern punctuation and capitalization notes on content syntax and lexis a detailed glossary and an index of proper names Caxton's complex combination of sources is given particular attention the principal one was a little known reworking of the French translation made by Jean de Vignay but he also used the Latin original and a previous English translation the Gilte Legende and made some personal additions The Introduction considers the structure of the entire book that Caxton created but focuses on the Temporale and the set of Old Testament legends that will follow in volume 2 It discusses their sources and language highlighting the differences between the first two volumes and the notable number of new words and senses It also gives a detailed bibliographic account of this printing in its historical context and descriptions of all surviving copies The World's Best Essays, from the Earliest Period to the Present Time David Josiah Brewer, 1900 Caxtoniana St. Bride Printing Library, Robin Myers, 1976 The New Cambridge Bibliography of English Literature: Volume 1, 600-1660 George Watson, Ian Roy Willison, 1974-08-29 More than fifty specialists have contributed to this new edition of volume 1 of The Cambridge Bibliography of English Literature The design of the original work has established itself so firmly as a workable solution to the immense problems of analysis articulation and coordination that it has been retained in all its essentials for the new edition The task of the new contributors has been to revise and integrate the lists of 1940 and 1957 to add materials of the following decade to correct and refine the bibliographical details already available and to re shape the whole according to a new series of conventions devised to give greater clarity and consistency to the entries William Caxton George Duncan Painter, 1977 In this biography I have described and discussed every known Caxton document and edition both intrinsically and in relation to the events persons and movements of contemporary history in which Caxton was so intimately involved I have tried to rectify the disconcertingly many established and hitherto unsuspected errors of fact or inference in the work of William Blades E G Duff W J B Crotch and others to bring new light and truth to all aspects of Caxton s career from independent study of the primary sources and to write for the general reader the student and the specialist scholar alike New conclusions are reached on Caxton s family connections his early activities as apprentice in London and cloth trader at Bruges his appointment and fall as Governor of the English merchants in the Low Countries his diplomatic missions in the protracted trade negotiations of the 1460s his discovery of his vocation for writing and printing his relationships with his instructor Johann Veldener and Colard Mansion his associate and the foundation and chronology of his first press at Bruges I show that it was from Mansion and the Bruges scribal tradition that Caxton borrowed and adapted his practices otherwise unique among fifteenth century printers of writing his own translations for publication obtaining commissions for these and other works from royal or noble patrons and introducing them with original prologues and epilogues as a vehicle for political or personal propaganda on behalf of his clients Caxton s hitherto unrealised function as a Yorkist and Tudor propagandist is explored in detail as a major key to his entire career as a printer New information is given on the sources and authorship of Caxton texts previously misattributed and dates are supplied on new typographical and other evidence for many of Caxton s undated editions Foreword The Social and Literary Contexts of a Late Medieval Manuscript Carol M. Meale, 1984 The Myroure of Oure Ladye , 1873 Caxton's Book William Henry Rhodes, 1876 Malory and William Caxton's Prose Romances of 1485 Jennifer Robin Goodman, 1987 Library of the World's Best Literature: Synopses of books. General index Charles Dudley Warner, 1902 The Encyclopaedia Britannica: Calhoun-Chatelaine , 1910 The last great work of the age of reason the final instance when all human knowledge could be presented with a single point of view Unabashed optimism and unabashed racism pervades many entries in the 11th and provide its defining characteristics Despite its occasional ugliness the reputation of the 11th persists today because of the staggering depth of knowledge contained with its volumes It is especially strong in its biographical entries These delve deeply into the history of men and women prominent in their eras who have since been largely forgotten except by the historians scholars The Guardian <https://www.theguardian.com/books/booksblog> 2012 apr 10 encyclopedia britannica 11th edition Caxton's Eneydos ,1890 Caxton's Eneydos Virgile,Jean-Jacques Salverda de Grave,1890 The Encyclopædia Britannica: Calhoun-Chatelaine ,1910
