Celebrate Richard W. Bimler,Herbert F. Brokering,1980-03 Marian Poem-Prayers in the Modern Age Jean Ward,2025-10-16 This book explores a range of twentieth and twenty first century poem prayers directed to or involving Mary In readings of works by T S Eliot David Jones Geoffrey Hill Elizabeth Jennings Hilary Davies Rowan Williams and others Ward traces the resurgence of interest in Mary from the late nineteenth century to the present day By the early twentieth century the once widespread and fervent cult of the Virgin Mary had for more than three hundred years been largely absent from England s religious life Similarly the figure of Mary had almost vanished from English poetry only to return gradually as Marian devotion began to revive in the nineteenth century The perception of this devotion as somehow un English dominant since the Reformation presented a challenge to poets engaged with the Marian theme in the modern day Marian Poem

Prayers in the Modern Age examines how male and female poets from both Roman Catholic and Anglican backgrounds responded to this situation The book also argues that the figure of Mary is a type of John Henry Newman's category of real assent commitment that is not merely intellectual but involves the totality of a person's being in relation to God

A select book list appears quarterly Festivals in Latin Literature Anke Walter, 2025-04-26 Festivals feature prominently in Latin literature even in works that are not explicitly dedicated to festive days like Ovid's Fasti Festivals in Latin Literature explores the role of festivals in elegiac lyric and epic poetry as well as historiography In all of these festivals play a more pervasive role than has so far been realised Tibullus' elegiac oeuvre rests on an interplay between amatory and festive poetics that even has a political meaning to it and Propertius uses festivals in his fourth book of elegies to question from an amatory perspective the memory typically associated with some key Roman festivals In the poetry of Sulpicia and Ovid's Tristia festivals allow voices that are otherwise marginalised to shape their own fame and commemoration Horace's Odes and the Carmen saeculare rest on an intriguing interplay of festivity in the private sphere which forms but a fleeting and precious moment and the monumentality of public festivals in which the poet styles himself as a master of Roman time Post Vergilian Latin epicists use festivals to explore the fragility of human identity in a world dominated by the gods in Ovid's Metamorphoses and to question further the commemoration connected with festive days In particular Statius in his Thebaid undermines the foundational importance of festivals in the Aeneid vividly staging the problematic meaning of festivals that convey a premature commemoration of an epic conflict that is unspeakable nefas Finally in Livy's ab urbe condita and Tacitus' Historiae festivals both provide structure and capture long term developments in Roman history including Rome's rise to power and the collapse of its morals while situating both works in broader historiographical and intertextual dialogues The book sheds new light on these authors and works uncovering their unique festive poetics It demonstrates that Latin literature adds important new aspects to our general understanding of festivals which as seen throughout the book offer even richer avenues of creating meaning and shaping or questioning commemoration than is often assumed New-York Observer, 1907 "The" Household Book of Poetry Charles A. Dana, 1880 Prayer and Piety in the Poems of Gerard Manley Hopkins John Delli-Carpini, 1998 This study focuses on poems that are either addressed totally and directly to God or the Blessed Virgin Mary poems that are prayers in part and poems that are meditations on a religious theme It also examines the poems in light of his sermons letters and spiritual writings which clarify his religious sentiments and complete the portrait of Hopkins the poet and the priest Universal Cyclopaedia and Atlas Charles Kendall Adams, Rossiter Johnson, 1902 Universal Cyclopdia and Atlas, 1903 Universal Cyclopædia and Atlas, 1901 The Household Book of Poetry Charles Anderson Dana, 1881 The Universal Cyclopaedia, 1900 A History of Bethlehem, Pennsylvania, 1741-1892 Joseph Mortimer Levering, 1903
