Catherine Ailsa McLeary, 1998 This work uses parallel narratives to tell Catherine s story Five chapters interweave quotes with comment and explanation Between these chapters runs a twentieth century voice offering reflections on themes such as madness and landscape "Madness" in Australia Catharine Coleborne, Dolly MacKinnon, 2003 No Marketing Blurbs

Madness in the Family C. Coleborne, 2009-11-18 Madness in the Family explores how colonial families coped with insanity through a trans colonial study of the relationships between families and public colonial hospitals for the insane in New South Wales Victoria Queensland and New Zealand between 1860 and 1914 Living with Fire Christine Hansen, Tom Griffiths, 2012 In Living with Fire historians Tom Griffiths and Christine Hansen trace both the history of fire in the region and the human history of the Steels Creek valley in a series of essays which examine the relationship between people and place These essays are interspersed with four interludes compiled from material produced by the community Outside Country Alan Mayne, Stephen Atkinson, 2011 While most Australians now live in the major cities on the coast much of the country s wealth is still derived from the interior a vast area of scattered and often remote communities mining towns and pastoral homesteads all linked by what historian J W McCarty called the Inland Corridor Culturally too the interior looms large in Australians imaginings in tourism campaigns and in the arts and media But despite this to most it remains an enigma an emptiness whose distant rural communities and their populations are the subjects of stubborn misperceptions Outside Country makes an invaluable contribution to the rethinking of inland Australia Through essays that mix the broad sweep of history with personal perspectives drawn from diaries letters oral histories and literature it examines the rich and varied social cultural and environmental histories of regions that continue to play a crucial role in the ongoing development of the Australian nation Foucault and Family Relations Malcolm Joyce, 2019-05-14 Foucault and Family Relations Governing from a Distance in Australia analyzes how notions of property ownership were instrumental in maintaining family stability and continuity in rural Australia outlining how inheritance and divorce laws functioned to govern the internal relationships of families to assist the state to rule from a distance Using a selection of Foucault s ideas on the family sexuality race space and economics this book shows how property operated as a disciplinary device which was underpinned by technical ideas such as surveying and cartography This book uses legal judgments as a form of ethnography to show how property as a socio technical device allowed a degree of local freedom for owners This aspect of property allowed the state to stimulate ideas of local freedom to assist in ruling from a distance demonstrating how the rural family as a domestic unit became a key field of intervention for the state as the family represented a bridge to larger relationships of power Core of My Heart, My Country Maggie MacKellar, 2004 Tells the stories of women who ventured out in bonnets and petticoats to collect seeds who abandoned sidesaddles to ride in the mountains who risked their reputations to climb mountains This work tells of the risky business of women who put their lives on the page to claim the importance of their experience Australian Book Review
