Educating for Faith and Justice Thomas P. Is Notre Dame Still a Catholic University? a Catholic Response Zacharias P. Thundy, 2015-09-29 Notre Dame is an independent Catholic university like Georgetown no longer chartered by the Vatican or the local diocese Therefore Notre Dame s financial academic and other resources are not controlled by the Vatican or the bishops but by Notre Dame itself The University of Notre Dame is a Catholic academic community of higher learning

animated from its origins by the Congregation of the Holy Cross The University is dedicated to the pursuit and sharing of truth for its own sake As such Notre Dame is expected to be Catholic and secular at once Otherwise it will be a contradiction in terms A Catholic university should thrive on both reason and faith each complementing but without trying to suppress the other If Notre Dame fails to make the best of both worlds it will cease to be a Catholic University Here Comes

Everybody William C. Graham, 2009 Some of these essays were first delivered as lectures in the Here Comes Everybody series to inaugurate the establishment of the Braegelman Program of Catholic Studies at The College of St Scholastica in Duluth Minnesota The authors gathered here begin to suggest something of the depth and breadth of the living Catholic Intellectual Tradition They are leading the way in new and important discussions These programs are about more than Catholic institutions exploring and asserting their identity Surely those involved seek rigorous engagement with the Catholic Intellectual Tradition examining religious ideas and ideals and participating in the study of Catholic thought and culture They seek dialogue with Catholics of all mind sets with Christians from other denominations believers from other faith traditions and all who seek the truth Book Jacket The Society for the Propagation of the Faith Edward John Hickey, 1922 Faith and Secularisation in Religious Colleges and Universities James Arthur, 2006-09-27 This book is a detailed study of higher education institutions affiliated to particular religions It considers the debates surrounding academic freedom institutional governance educational policy mission and identity together with institutions relations with the state and their wider communities A wide range of institutions are examined including Christian Islamic and Jewish universities in the US Europe and the Middle East Essentially this volume questions whether such institutions can be both religious and a university and also considers the appropriate role of religious faith within colleges and universities Scholarship and

Christian Faith Douglas Jacobsen, Rhonda Hustedt Jacobsen, 2004-04-08 This book enters a lively discussion about religious faith and higher education in America that has been going on for a decade or more During this time many scholars have joined the debate about how best to understand the role of faith in the academy at large and in the special arena of church related Christian higher education The notion of faith informed scholarship has of course figured prominently in this conversation But argue Douglas and Rhonda Jacobsen the idea of Christian scholarship itself has been remarkably under discussed Most of the literature has assumed a definition of Christian scholarship that is Reformed and evangelical in orientation a model associated with the phrase the integration of faith and learning The authors offer a new definition and analysis of Christian scholarship that respects the insights of different Christian traditions e g Catholic Lutheran Anabaptist Wesleyan Pentecostal and that applies to the arts and to professional studies as much as it does to the humanities and the natural and social sciences The book itself is organized as a conversation Five chapters by the Jacobsens alternate with four contributed essays that sharpen illustrate or complicate the material in the preceding chapters The goal is both to map the complex terrain of Christian scholarship as it actually exists and to help foster better connections between Christian scholars of differing persuasions and between Christians and the academy as a whole The Catholic Way Bishop Donald Wuerl, 2002-05-14 In The Catholic Way Bishop Donald Wuerl Archbishop of Washington D C has offered up an accessible easy to use blueprint to the Catholic Church's most recent catechism a detailed summary of Catholic thought compiled by a commission of church cardinals and bishops in 1992
