Catholicon Anglicum, an English-Latin Wordbook, Dated 1483 Sidney J. H. Herrtage, 1881 Catalogue of the books in the library of the Faculty of procurators in Glasgow. [With] John Muir, 1903 Sixteenth-Century English Dictionaries John Considine, 2022-05-26 This is the first volume in the trilogy Dictionaries in the English Speaking World 1500 1800 which will offer a new history of lexicography in and beyond the early modern British Isles The volume explores the dictionaries wordlists and glossaries that were compiled and read by speakers of English from the end of the Middle Ages to the year 1600 These include the first printed dictionaries in which English words were collected the dictionaries of Latin used by all educated English speakers from young children to Shakespeare to adult royalty the dictionaries of modern languages that gave English speakers access to the languages and cultures of continental Europe dictionaries and wordlists documenting other languages from Armenian to Malagasy to Welsh and a great variety of specialized English wordlists No unified history has ever surveyed this vast lively and culturally significant lexicographical output before The guiding principle of the book and the trilogy is that a story about dictionaries must also be a story about human beings John Considine offers a full and sympathetic account of those who compiled and used these works and those who supported them financially paying particular attention to records of dictionary use and its traces in surviving copies The volume will appeal to all those interested in the languages and literary cultures of the sixteenth century English speaking world Catalogue of the

Printed Books in the Library of the Society of Writers to H. M. Signet in Scotland ,1891 Staging Conventions in Medieval English Theatre Philip Butterworth,2014-06-26 Examines staging conventions in the medieval English theatre and ways in which they conditioned the reactions of the audience Folk-taxonomies in Early English Earl R. Anderson,2003

A folk taxonomy is a semantic field that represents the particular way in which a language imposes structure and order upon the myriad impressions of human experience and perception Thus for example the experience of color in modern English is structured around an inventory of twelve basic color terms but languages vary in the number of basic color terms used from thirteen or fourteen terms to as few as two or three Anthropological linguists have been interested in the comparative study of folk taxonomies across contemporary languages and in their studies they have sometimes proposed evolutionary models for the development and elaboration of these taxonomies The evolutionary models have implications for historical linguistics but there have been very few studies of the historical development of a folk taxonomy within a language or within a language family Folk Taxonomies in Early English undertakes this task for English and to some extent for the Germanic and Indo European language families The semantic fields studied are basic color terms seasons of the year geometric shapes the five senses the folk psychology of mind and soul and basic plant and animal life forms Anderson s emphasis is on folk taxonomies in Old and Middle English and also on the implications of semantic analysis for our reading of early English literary texts
