Abortion Cara MariAnna, 2002-10-30 Stories about abortion provide a rich ground for looking at the relationship between narrative experience and meaning because in many ways abortion has come to be a defining issue for American culture one that touches on the value we attribute to human life liberty and freedom Using personal stories and interviews MariAnna seeks to show the contours of a vital and diverse collective story a narrative that emphasizes the discursive dynamics at work in any account of the significance of abortion MariAnna seeks to show the contours of a vital and diverse collective story a narrative that emphasizes the discursive dynamics at work in any account of the significance of abortion By attempting to find a range of narrative and experiential extremes she provides diverse and detailed accounts that form a collective story The accounts she provides are about actual experience but because the meaning of that experience is created and conveyed in narrative form there is no neat distinction between a story and the event to which it refers Meaning is embedded in larger cultural narrative the individual stories told about abortion and the intersection between them These stories illustrate how experience itself is mediated by to some extent even a function of narrative modes and currents They illustrate the way autobiographical history is so enmeshed in cultural narrative forms that the private accounts we give of our own lives function as often unacknowledged social commentary Stories about abortion provide a rich ground for looking at the relationship between narrative experience and meaning because in many ways abortion has come to be a defining issue for American culture one that touches on the value we attribute to human life liberty and freedom This book will be of particular interest to scholars students and researchers involved with Women s Studies and Women s Health issues and to general readers concerned with contemporary American social problems

Novels Mrs. Henry Wood,1888 Mrs. Wood's Novels: Johnny Ludlow. 6th ed. 1880 Mrs. Henry Wood,1880 Communicating Together ,1987 Al-Anon Narratives Grazyna Zajdow,2002-08-30 According to the author in Australia men drink alcohol as a mark of masculinity and women take care of drinking men as a part of normative femininity And while research on alcoholics and alcoholism is common very few studies consider the lives of the women who are married to alcoholics Here Zajdow details and explores the lives of such women who belong to Al Anon where they may share their experiences and offer their stories in a nonthreatening and supportive environment The author presents the narratives of these women in the context of her analysis of the self help group to demonstrate how people construct and reconstruct their lives as coherent stories about themselves and to show how these self stories can be changed and reconceptualized within the context of the group Unique in its examination of self stories offered within a self help group this book challenges sociological knowledge about the way these mutual aid groups operate as communities of interest and help Zajdow begins by laying the groundwork through a discussion of the professional and lay discourses on women s relationships to alcoholic men She then provides the basis for using self stories to examine a group of people the individuals in the group and the behavior of the group in general A history of Al Anon as a self help group is also detailed and the author compares the Australian meetings to meetings in other parts of the world The stories themselves are then examined and discussed in terms of how they relate to group processes and individual change through Al Anon Tracing the way that these women move from a place of despair to one of hope and meaningful change this also represents a sociological exploration of gender families and communities

Save the Dam! Harriet Sirof,1981 Because Cathy has a reputation of fabricating the truth no one believes her story about the terrorist group that threatens to blow up the Wolf River Dam

Cathy's Story Glenn Myers,1997 It would be very difficult to say how far a man may go in religion and yet die in his sins how much he may look like an heir of heaven and yet be a child of wrath Many unconverted men have a belief which is similar to faith and yet it is not true faith Certain persons exhibit pious affections which have the warmth of spiritual love but are quite destitute of gracious life Every grace can be counterfeited even as jewels can be imitated The life of God within the soul creates an infinite difference between the man who has it and the man who has it not and the point is to make sure that we have this life Are YOU sure that you have it C H Spurgeon Many Christians seem to live their lives at less than 50 of their potential But God has promises that apply to every believer no matter what their situation If your life is lacking in promise then look to Gods promises to see what it could become Spurgeons premise in this book is that many people who appear to be Christians are not fully living under Gods promises of salvation through Christ and of fruitful Christian living This is an ideal book for those who are at church but who lack assurance of faith Spurgeons style of writing is like his sermons direct profound vividly illustrated and faithdirecting That is why his books have sold in the tens of millions and are still published for Christians today as relevant now because the content reflects eternal truths

Mothers in and Out of Jail Susan Greene,2003

When Parents Kidnap Geoffrey L. Greif,Rebecca L. Hegar,1993 It is estimated that 350 000 children a year are abducted by a family member What happens when a child is kidnapped from home What are the emotional and psychological consequences for the child who must live in hiding for weeks months or even years How does the parent left behind cope with having no knowledge of the child s whereabouts or well being And what could lead a parent to inflict such a painful existence on his or her own child Until now little systematic research has been undertaken to find answers and the scope and consequences of parental abduction have remained largely unknown Now in When Parents Kidnap Geoffrey Greif and Rebecca Hegar provide the most comprehensive look yet at the problem of the abduction of children by their parents The authors capture the experiences both of the parents searching for their children and the abductors who have taken them We see vivid depictions of life on the run and learn the painful details of how children who have been in hiding for months and sometimes years cope with moving from town to town and school to school We also learn how reunion with the searching parent affects them The phenomenon of parental abduction is part of a larger social context of changes in the family Almost a quarter of U S children live with only one parent more than five million of them children of divorce and the growing prevalence of parental abductions has officials and professionals alarmed Greif and Hegar point the way to improvements in public policy by showing precisely how changes in custody divorce and other laws could help to reduce abduction of children or resolve it more quickly Identifying five common scenarios that end in abduction Greif and Hegar help the reader to understand a wide range of abduction situations and they provide specific suggestions for mental health professionals involved with families who have experienced this trauma
