Causes and Environmental Implications of Increased UV-B Radiation R M Harrison, R E Hester, 2007-10-31 Since the realisation that the ozone layer protecting the earth is suffering massive depletion atmospheric science has been increasingly in the spotlight It is recognised that we need to increase our knowledge and understanding of the likely impact that increases in UV B radiation will have on life on earth Charting research that encompasses the changing distribution of atmospheric ozone changes in UV B radiation and the consequent effects on photochemistry and biological systems in the aquatic and terrestrial environments Causes and Environmental Implications of Increased UV B Radiation draws together experts from the international community Also included is a discussion of the emotive and highly topical subject of skin cancer as related to increased UV B radiation As an up to date and authoritative summary of the state of this highly complex science this book will be welcomed by all practitioners and researchers in the field Causes and Environmental Implications of Increased UV-B Radiation Roy M. Harrison, Ronald E. Hester, 2000 Annotation While the enlarging hole in the Antarctic ozone layer is inherently a fascinating phenomena we also need to understand the environmental hazard against which we are counting on stratospheric ozone to protect us ultraviolet radiation In six papers contributors summarize what is known about the effects of the UV B portion of the spectrum e g on skin cancer and assess future trends Hester is a chemistry professor with the U of York Harrison is professor of environmental health at the U of Birmingham Distributed in the US by Springer Verlag Annotation c Book News Inc Portland OR booknews com Effects of Increased Ultraviolet Radiation in the Arctic International Arctic Science Committee, 1995 Arctic Climate Impact Assessment - Scientific Report Arctic Climate Impact Assessment, 2005-11-07 Arctic Climate Impact Assessment was prepared by an international team of over 300 scientists experts and knowledgeable members of indigenous communities and is the most comprehensive volume on Arctic climate change available Illustrated in full color throughout Ecological responses to environment stresses Jelte Rozema, J.A.C. Verkleij, 2012-12-06 September 1987 the Faculty Biology of the Vrije Universiteit Amsterdam commemorated the fact that Prof Dr Wilfried Hans Otto Ernst had been active as a scientist for 25 years This period of 25 years of scientific research started at the Institut für Angewandte Botanik Institute of Applied Botany of the University of Münster FRG In 1965 he completed his Ph D thesis entitled Untersuchungen der Schwermetallpflanzengesellschaften Mitteleuropas unter Einschluss der Alpen He was appointed full Professor at the Department of Ecology of the Vrije Universiteit Amsterdam in 1973 On the occasion of his 25th anniversary as a scientist a promise was made though in covert terms which we could not redeem at that time The promise held to offer Prof Ernst a book in which his former and present staffmembers Ph D students and colleagues should write a review about their specialism concerning a central theme Now at the beginning of 1990 we consider the chapters of Ecological Responses to Environmental Stresses to be completed The book reflects the wide range of research approaches that has been initiated and organized by Wilfried Ernst The editors hope to have attained the primary aim of the production of the book of friends that is to gather relevant papers of staff members and colleagues of Wilfried Ernst The title of the book Ecological Responses to Environmental Stresses covers the majority of the chapters included Ozone Depletion, the Greenhouse Effect, and Climate Change United States. Congress. Senate. Committee on Environment and Public Works. Subcommittee on Environmental Pollution,1986 Ozone depletion, the greenhouse effect, and climate change United States. Congress. Senate. Committee on Environment and Public Works. Subcommittee on Environmental Protection,1987 Environmental Health Perspectives ,1994 Environmental Effects of Ozone Depletion and Its Interactions with Climate Change United Nations Environment Programme,2003 The 2002 report updates the assessment of the environmental effects of increased ultraviolet radiation and focuses on the interactions between ozone depletion and climate change Findings include that atmospheric ozone levels remain depleted with an annual global average loss of about three per cent Although the quality quantity and availability of ground based UV measurements continue to improve a global scale assessment is not yet available Long term effects on UV radiation from changes in cloud and snow cover have been observed which indicates complex interactions between climate change and UV B radiation New studies continue to confirm the health problems caused by UV B radiation especially the formation of cataracts in the eyes skin cancer and damage to the immune system Interactions between UV radiation and other global climate change factors are also likely to affect many terrestrial and aquatic ecosystems Causes and Effects of Changes in Stratospheric Ozone National Research Council (U.S.).
