Cave Artists:

What Is Paleolithic Art? Jean Clottes, 2016-04-25 The noted archaeologist explores the varieties of prehistoric cave art across the world and offers surprising insights into its purpose and meaning What drew our Stone Age ancestors into caves to paint in charcoal and red hematite to watch the likenesses of lions bison horses and aurochs as they flickered by firelight Was it a creative impulse a spiritual dawn a shamanistic conception of the world In this book Jean Clottes one of the most renowned figures in the study of cave paintings pursues an answer to the why of Paleolithic art Discussing sites and surveys across the world Clottes offers personal reflections on how we have viewed these paintings in the past what we learn from looking at them across geographies and what these paintings may have meant and what function they may have served for their artists Steeped in Clottes s shamanistic theories of cave painting What Is Paleolithic Art travels from well known Ice Age sites like Chauvet Altamira and Lascaux to visits with contemporary aboriginal artists evoking a continuum between the cave paintings of our prehistoric past and the living rock art of today Clottes s work lifts us from the darkness of our Paleolithic origins to reveal surprising insights into how we think why we create why we believe and who we are The

Cave Painters Gregory Curtis, 2007-10-09 The Cave Painters is a vivid introduction to the spectacular cave paintings of France and Spain the individuals who rediscovered them theories about their origins their splendor and mystery Gregory Curtis makes us see the astonishing sophistication and power of the paintings and tells us what is known about their creators the Cro Magnon people of some 40 000 years ago He takes us through various theories that the art was part of fertility or hunting rituals or used for religious purposes or was clan mythology examining the ways interpretations have changed over time Rich in detail personalities and history The Cave Painters is above all permeated with awe for those distant humans who developed perhaps for the first time both the ability for abstract thought and a profound and beautiful way to express it

Cave Art and Climate Change Kieran D. O'Hara, 2014 French and Spanish Upper Paleolithic cave art was drawn forty thousand to eleven thousand years ago and it was motivated by climate change Kieran D O Hara a geologist and professor emeritus at the University of Kentucky explains why we know that to be true in this groundbreaking book His goal isn t to explore the meaning of cave art but to show why it was done While many scholars argue that the art depicted in these caves don t depict the animals of that period O Hara argues just the opposite putting forth the controversial theory that the cave paintings accurately reflect the climate and animals that existed alongside the artists For far too long cave art specialists have incorrectly concluded that cave art doesn t match up with the reality of life at the time because they ve been comparing archaeological bone remains with cave imagery of a different age Paleolithic people survived through the most severe swings in climate this planet has experienced in the past two million years and it was a major factor in what cave artists depicted Examine the facts and discover a new interpretation with Cave Art and Climate Change Painters of the Caves |

The Cave and the Cathedral Amir D. Aczel, 2010-02-12 What Are The Ancients Trying To Tell Us Why would the Cro Magnon hunter gatherers of Europe expend so much time and effort to penetrate into deep dark and dangerous caverns where they might encounter cave bears and lions or get lost and die aided only by the dim glow of animal fat burning stone candles often crawling on all fours for distances of up to a mile or more underground to paint amazing haunting images of animals From The Cave and the Cathedral Join researcher and scientist Amir D Aczel on a time traveling journey through the past and discover what the ancient caves of France and Spain may reveal about the origin of language art and human thought as he illuminates one of the greatest mysteries in anthropology A well researched and highly readable exploration of one of the most spectacular manifestations of the unique human creative spirit and one of its most intriguing mysteries Ian Tattersall Curator Division of Anthropology American Museum of Natural History and author of The Fossil Trail How We Know What We Think We Know about Human Evolution

The First Artists: In Search of the World's Oldest Art Paul Bahn, Michel Lorblanchet, 2017-07-11 Two of the greatest living authorities on Ice Age art delve hundreds of thousands of years into the human past to discover the earliest works of art ever made drawing on decades of new research Where is the world's very first art located When and why did people begin experimenting with different materials forms and colors Prehistorians have long been asking these questions but only recently have they been able to piece together the first chapter in the story of art Overturning the traditional Eurocentric vision of our artistic origins Paul Bahn and Michel Lorblanchet seek out the earliest art across the whole world There are clues that even three million years ago distant human ancestors were drawn to natural curiosities that appeared representational such as the face like Makapansgat cobble from South Africa not carved but naturally weathered to resemble a human face In the last hundred thousand years people all over the world began to create art the oldest known paint palettes in South Africa's Blombos Cave the famous Venus figures across Europe all the way to Siberia and magnificent murals on cave walls in every continent except Antarctica This book is the first to assess the discovery history and significance of these varied forms of art the artistic impulse developed in the human mind wherever it traveled The Cave Artists Ann Sieveking, 1979
