The Making of Belize Anne Sutherland,1998-07-23 Documents the history and rapid globalization of Belize as it confronts postmodernity State and Community in Fisheries Management E. Paul Durrenberger,Thomas King,2000-05-30 Those who are involved with fishing and fisheries resource management including fishermen their communities production processing distribution and marketing industries and various government and non governmental organizations confront the contradictions arising from the appropriation allocation and distribution of fisheries and marine resources in a variety of ways The authors call into question the assumptions of policy prescriptions to common resource problems by examining the experiences of people and societies confronted with and adapting to these resource appropriation allocation and distribution problems They suggest that tragedies of resource depletion and institutional failure to deal with them are not characteristic of human nature but rather are by products of particular cultural practices institutions and assumptions The detailed empirical ethnographic study of these relationships holds great potential for informing those who are making future policy decisions as well as contributing to the theories of human behavior and cooperation to solve such problems

Belizean Studies ,2004 Successful Tourism Pran Nath Seth,2006 Tourism is the world s second largest industry employing on an average one out of twenty adult men and women world wide and the ratio is one out of ten when it comes to the developed countries like USA The growing ranks of international leisure travellers are being influenced by business travellers who are flooding into India as a result of economic liberalisation It is thus imperative that our professional tourism corps be trained to meet these exacting requirements Both in public and private sectors the increasing understanding of these needs is leading to the development of institutes training centres and academic programmes in tourism management There is thus a great need for comprehensive professional literature This two volume series volume tells readers all that they want to know about tourism its history networks and intricate operations Volume Two discusses in detail how different tourism sectors operate and market themselves travel agencies tour operators hotels restaurants airlines as well as the impact of changing technology on their activities
