Cecil Skotnes ,1972      Resistance Art in South Africa Sue Williamson,2004 Documented at a time when apartheid was still in full force this classic account of resistance presents the work of over a hundred artists their paintings sculptures murals posters graffiti and T shirts the drawings on the wall Sue Williamson is a practicing artist who exhibits internationally and has built up a reputation as one of South Africa s most important writers on contemporary art Title page      The Epic of Everlasting Cecil Skotnes,2011      Cecil Skotnes ,      A History of South Africa at the Venice Biennale Annchen Bronkowski,2025-11-21 This study presents the first history of the South African national pavilion at the Venice Biennale since it first participated in 1950 up until its contemporary pavilions Covering a contentious period in South African history the pavilion engenders a thought provoking engagement with questions around national identity and visual representation What has it meant for a country like South Africa to be at the Venice Biennale How national is a national pavilion The book acts as a case study highlighting how this understanding of what is national and what is representative has changed throughout the decades At first it was associated with stylistic concerns evidencing the polemic post war shift from academic to modern art in the mid century towards the 1960s South African art in Venice sought to capture something of a specific South Africanness rather than seeking to emulate the general tendencies of Euramerican modernism the country s exclusion from Venice during the boycott years of the 1970s to early 1990s evidences the clear emergence of a politically conscious national aesthetic South Africa s re entry highlights how the tenets of post apartheid nation building had to be navigated within a postmodern globalist art world beset with post nationalism This study shows that South Africa has always been caught between national determinations and internationalist aspirations and the contrast of this tension is nowhere more sharply reflected than at the Venice Biennale with its national pavilion structure This book is suitable for researchers and students in Art History African Studies and Museum Studies      Listening to Distant Thunder Philippa Hobbs,2014-10-15 Originally published by the Standard Bank as part of a curated exhibition in May 2011 this prestigious volume celebrates the life and works of Peter Clarke 1929 2014 one of South Africa s foremost artists A mere 500 copies were originally published all taken up at the exhibition and continued demand has led to its re release Clarke left his job as a dockworker in Simon s Town to devote himself to art The wisdom of this decision is reflected in a remarkable career which extended over some six decades and was acknowledged in the awards of the Order of Ikhamanga silver in 2005 and a Lifetime Achievement Award in 2010 Listening to distant thunder The art of Peter Clarke recounts an artist s life in the context of the social history of South Africa from the 1940s onwards His images reflect the social disruption of the Cape Flats and the trauma of his community s forced removal from Simon s Town to the bleak apartheid township of Ocean View Yet Clarke s images have avoided bitterness and his work is a perceptive scrutiny and celebration of life in all its aspects Illustrated with over 200 reproductions and photographs this book was researched and written by well known South African art historians Philippa
