Faith Seeking Conviviality Samuel E. Ewell, 2019-12-30 Faith Seeking Conviviality traces the journey of a U S missionary into Brazil and beyond seeking to be faithfully present while also questioning the default settings of good intentions Taking Ivan Illich as the primary theological guide on that journey Faith Seeking Conviviality narrates the discovery of a renewed imagination for Christian mission that arises as a response to two persistent questions First given the colonial history of Christian missionary expansion on what basis do we go on fulfilling the Great Commission Matt 28 16 20 as Christ s disciples A second question intimately related to the first is What makes it possible to embody a distinctively Christian presence that is missionary without being manipulative In doing theology with and after Ivan Illich Faith Seeking Conviviality does not offer a pull off the shelf model for mission but rather a framework for embodying the incarnational logic of mission that entails a convivial turn delinking missionary discipleship from the lure of techniques and institutional dependence in order to receive and to share the peace of Christ relationally

Celebration of Awareness Excerpts Ivan Illich, Institute for the Study of Nonviolence, 1970*

Anarchy, 1917

Thoughts Out of School William Ray Arney, 2000 Schooling Ivan Illich says is one modern manifestation of the mystery of evil The essays in Thoughts out of School are observations of what happens to children and teachers in training as they go through the peculiarly modern institution of schooling Schools are so large in our lives that some of us never escape their reasoning or their practices Arney writes But through acute observation and by taking the reader back to the historical roots of commonplace terms like development and character Arney offers a way to think about schools on the one hand and about true education and learning on the other Arney s surgical insights cut through the layers of contemporary eduspeak to reveal the bones of what all good teachers and parents want for their students and their children Arney s response to the mystery of evil that is schooling If we recognize the hopelessness of our reliance on schools we might be able to hope for our children and ourselves again
