Popular Youtube Automation Channel For Beginners For Teens:

The YouTube Apparatus Kevin Munger, 2024-05-15 The academic agenda for studying social media and politics has been somewhat haphazard Thanks to rapid technological change a cascade of policy relevant crises and sheer scale we do not have a coherent framework for deciding what questions to ask This Element articulates such a framework by taking existing literature from media economics and sociology and applying it reflexively to both the academic agenda and to the specific case of politics on YouTube the Supply and Demand Framework The key mechanism traced over the past century is the technology of audience measurement The YouTube audience comes pre rationalized in the form of Likes Views and Comments and is thus unavoidable for all actors involved The phenomenon of radicalization is best understood as a consequence of accelerated feedback between audiences and creators radicalizing each other I use fifteen years of supply and demand data from YouTube to demonstrate how different types of producers respond more or less to this feedback which in turn structures the ideological distribution of content consumed on the platform This title is also available as Open Access on Cambridge Core

Algorithmic and Aesthetic Literacy Lydia Schulze Heuling, Christian Filk, 2021-03-29 Algorithmic and Aesthetic Literacy is a selection of texts aiming to extend current understandings of algorithmic and aesthetic literacy The volume presents a wide array of transdisciplinary perspectives on computational and aesthetic practices and thinking Drawing on computer and educational science artistic research designing and crafting this collection delves deeply into societal and educational challenges in the wake of the digital transformation The volume brings together diverse approaches and viewpoints to stimulate dialogue and awareness of the manifold ways in which algorithmic processes have become part of our lives By extending our ability to respond to a data driven world in creative and non habitual ways we will be better equipped to re imagine and shape our collective future as meaningful and fulfilling
