Public Media Management for the Twenty-First Century Michał Głowacki, Lizzie Jackson, 2013-10-15 This book analyzes the challenges facing public service media management in the face of ongoing technological developments and changing audience behaviors. It connects models, strategies, concepts, and managerial theories with emerging approaches to public media practices through an examination of media services e.g. blogs, social networks, search engines, content aggregators, and the online performance of traditional public media organizations. Contributors identify the most relevant and useful approaches, those likely to encourage creativity, interaction, and the development of innovative content and services, and discuss how such innovation can underpin the continuation or expansion of public service media in the changing mediascape.

New Media, Politics and Society in Israel Gideon Doron, Azi Lev-On, 2014-06-11 This book addresses the social and political landscape of Internet usage in Israel and studies the formation of a networked information society in the hi-tech nation. Chapters address a range of issues, including the diffusion of the Internet to Israel, religion and the Internet in the Israeli Jewish context, Internet-based planned encounters between Israeli Jews and Palestinians, and between Jews and Arabs in Israel, online journalism, and user-generated content, Israeli public relations, online Internet usage by Israeli parliamentarians, parties, and candidates, as well as audiences, and the facilitation of personalized politics through personal sites of politicians. This book was originally published as a special issue of Israel Affairs.
